Judge B. W. Green's Address Before Railroad Trainmen

An Address of Sterling Worth Delivered Before Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Trainmen in Renovo on April 1, 1898.

The following is the address of Judge Green delivered on that occasion and published in the PRESS at that time. We take pleasure in republishing it at this time that all railroad men read and note the sentiments of Judge Green as expressed at that time, years before he ever thought he should ask the support of his hearers:

EMPLOYEES FOLLOW THE GOLDEN RULE.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen: I am heartily in accord with the spirit of this meeting and its object, and I have not only enjoyed but have been much benefitted by what I have seen and learned here this afternoon, and take pleasure in extending thanks to your worthy committee for this opportunity to be present and join in the ceremonies of the day.

The meeting of the employer and employees of this great system which is so closely allied with every material interest, not only within our commonwealth from which it derives "great name, but with the nation at large to which it is a right arm of strength, will certainly have lasting results for good, not only to those who are present but to the community at large that relies to a considerable extent upon the working of this line of transportation its for pleasure and prosperity.

It is fitting for us on this sacred day that we should turn our thoughts to our duty, to our fellow man, to the community, to the state and nation under which we live, and last but not least as employer and employee of the Pennsylvania railroad. The grand conception of the rule of doing unto others as you would others should do unto you that has been the guiding star to humanity for ages and has stood the test of time for centuries, and will for all time to come, is a self-evident truth that can be safely relied upon in the everyday affairs of life. It is the spring from which pure thoughts and right motives flow. That it is one of the cardinal and essential self-imposed requirements among your membership to cultivate morality and intellectual attainments is to be highly commended. It is always with satisfaction that we read such signs as "R. R. Y. M. C. A.," Railroad Reading Room, and others of like import. They are the switch levers along the great thoroughfares that give assurance of safety to the traveler. The cultivation of the heart and mind of man is at least as much an essential as physical strength—the whole machine is useless when you have removed one of its parts. I do not pretend to be here to spin new theories or to advance thoughts that are not already old or even trite to you, but if we are able in this brief time, to impress upon each other, that we are never too old to learn, that the cultivation of the mind and conscience is the excuse for human existence, then so much of your time as I may take will not be wholly lost. Read and think for yourselves, but above all educate you children that your places may be well filled in time to come—perchance it may be as officers or employees as your are now engaged, and in any event as good citizens of this great republic. In whatever walk of life your and their lot may be cast, educated and trained minds are needed in order to better fulfill the duties of life. Advancement and progress are the watch words of the age and he who expects to keep step with the procession must indeed be well equipped both mentally and physically. The best ideals are worthy of your emulation, the highest goals your aspiration. Many may be disappointed but every step in the right direction is so much gained.

OUR PROGRESS INDEX OF OUR ADVANCEMENT.

The history of the progresss made by the railroads in the United States since its commencement about 70 years ago, is but an index of the advancement of our country. The railroad and the railroad men have been the advance agents for progress and civilization. They have developed and opened to the use and enjoyment of man the vast resources of a continent, and this too in a comparatively short space of time. Within about 30 years, and within the recollection of many here present, the first transcontinental line was completed. It seems but yesterday that we saw an account in the newspapers of the driving of the silver spike at Ogden that completed the connecting link that joined the Atlantic and Pacific. And now the canvas covered prairie schooner has given way to the express trains with all the modern conveniences and luxuries on at least three complete systems of railroad from ocean to ocean within our territory. The Great American desert which occupied such a large space upon the map of the west, has given way to a considerable extent by these agencies, to prosperous communities, towns, cities and states. They have built up a broad empire in the west vast in resources, that as an intergral part of this union we as its citizens have a just right to feel proud.

ONE THIRD OF UNIVERSE SPANNED BY RAILROADS.

The magnitude of the railroad interests in the United States to-day is so vast and far reaching in its effect upon every industry and avocation of life, that it commands the respect and admiration of all. From 40,000 miles of railroad in 1865, the records show, I believe, an increase to 185,000, being over one-third of that upon the earth's surface. The same source of information tells me that this represents about one-sixth of the entire value of the United States. Any single industry pales into insignificance when compared with it. No wonder that one out of every twenty-eight wage earners in this country are engaged in this class of work, and that it is a true barometer of trade and prosperity. Strike this interest down and you will materially affect all living along its iron way. I do not mean by this that any industry, large and far reaching in its usefulness as it may be, should be fostered to the detriment of another, but I am frank to say that obstacles should not be placed in its path and it should receive the hearty encouragement of every good citizen. When the car and engine shops of the railroad are running full, and the train service is being pushed to the capacity of the line, then we can rest assured that the producers as well as the wage earners along its line are shareholders in its prosperity, that all who wish to work can find employment at fair prices, and the community at large are prosperous and happy. Show me the balance sheet of this great corporation each month or each season and you or I can tell by comparison whether the farmer, the iron master, the producer and manufacturers generally throughout the country are prospering or not. The great industries of this or any other country are so interchangeable in their cause and effect upon each other, that an injury to one is a disaster to the other, and is like taking out a rail in the way of a rapidly moving train, that by the very nature of things must result in great loss of property if not to life. It is a mistaken idea that when a railroad company is injured, whether it be in the destruction of its property, some great calamity or otherwise, that the loss will fall solely upon what may be termed the wealthy class of the country. While they may be largely interested yet the fact remains that the shareholders of a great corporation, like the one you represent, numbers into the thousands and includes the laboring man, the widow, the orphan and what may be termed the great intermediate class, either directly or indirectly. This stock is owned and is one of the corner stones of the foundation of security for the beneficial association, the life insurance company, and the savings institutions of the country, in fact that class of institutions of all others in which your interests and the interests of every man who has been striving for a life time to invest and safely lay up for himself in old age and his family a few well earned dollars are invested. I know, gentlemen, and the country at large shares with me in this knowledge, that these interests are safe in your hands, and I can assure you that it is a gratifying knowledge. Labor and capital must of necessity go hand in hand because their interests are identical.

THE NORTHERN CENTRAL'S DEFENSE OF THE UNION.

Well do I remember the stirring events of the Civil war that cost this country so much in treasure and life, and that entailed so much suffering upon the battle fields of our own state and the south. And I have a vivid recollection of the trains of soldiers from the loyal north that were being transported over the Northern Central to the defense of the union—at that time the only railroad extending north and south through the Keystone state—and as such was the great artery that supplied the sinews of war to our country. It was over this line in the dark days, early in 1861, that the loyal sons were safely taken to their post of duty and from that time until victory perched upon the Stars and Stripes of a redeemed country it continued to be the great military highway of the union. Since that time substantial and rapid growth has been made in the Pennsylvania system and to day its lines fully equipped reach out in every direction in the most populous parts of our union and extend to fully one-half of its population. No one can help but admire the illustration of this system as depicted upon the great map at the Broad Street station in Philadelphia showing these throughfares of iron and steel covering the western, southern and middle states, the heart of this union and extending from the Mississippi and the Lakes to the Atlantic and is a source of strength to our country in times of peace, and the right arm of defense in times of war.

STAND LOYALLY BY THE RAILROAD OFFICIALS.

It is a gratifying fact that for years the mutual understanding existing between the officers and employees of this corporation have been satisfactory to all concerned. At times business generally has been depressed, wages low and misfortunes have attended this, as well as other avocations of life, but the fact remains that for at least 21 years, an age in the life of man, this great, good and faithful army of employees have followed the leadership of good sense, and kept in the service and aided the company by good will and good work. It gives me pleasure to bear testimony that a Pennsylvania railroad employee is gentiemanly and courteous in his dealings with the public; that he is brave and fearless in the performance of every duty, and that he is an upright citizen in the community where he lives and meets every just requirement.

Nick Russell, the owner of the Big Comedy Company that bears his name, and which opens the season at the Emporium Opera House cannot read a note of music. Those who see him in his vaudville stunt in which he plays a piano with boxing gloves on and in many and divers other extraordinary ways, will acknowledge that he is a musical wonder and worthy of the title that has been bestowed upon him, "the human pianola." Several other strong vaudville acts will be seen with the show including the Australian acrobats, the Bedell Bros.; The Twentieth Century Trio, The Hawks; Louise Robbins; the petite soubrette in imitation of famous plays, and George Edwards, the funny German comedian. The opening bill on Thursday evening, Nov. 1st will be "Peaceful Valley," the play that made Sol Smith Russell famous, and which will be presented for the first time at popular prices, 15, 25 and 35 cents. Secure your seats at H. S. Lloyd's book store.

B. W. Green for President Judge.

Election day is close at hand,
And we want it to be seen,
That every loyal vote is cast,
For Benj. W. Green.

He is an honest citizen,
He loves the working man,
We want him for our future Judge,
So help him all you can.

By faithful work and honesty,
He made his way to fame,
His motto is the Golden Rule,
There's naught against his name.

So when Nov. 6th does come,
Go forth with smiles serene,
And for President Judge elect,
Our choice B. W. Green.

J. F. S.

Hon. Josiah Howard's Work for Townships

J. R. Batchelder, of Grove, Treasurer of the Road Fund, received last Saturday, from the State Forestry Commissioner, $582.84 for Good Road purposes for the year 1906. This with the $874.26 received by Grove for school purposes makes a total of $1,457.10 that Grove township will receive from the State Forestry Commissioners for 1906, through the untiring efforts and zeal of Hon. Josiah Howard in the last session of the legislature, when he introduced and secured the passage of his bill assessing all state lands for road and school purposes. Every township in the county, where the state owns lands, will this year receive the same per cent. of taxes to support their schools and aid in making good roads. Every tax-payer in Cameron county should show by their vote that they appreciate Hon. Josiah Howard's efforts in their behalf.

TAX PAYER.

DENIAL FROM MR. HOWARD

Editor Press:—

I was asked to-day by a friendly Democrat, in all seriousness, if I had voted for the "White Slave" Bills. I assured him, most emphatically that I had not and referred him to the Record I had published a few weeks ago and he said he was satisfied, as my word word was good, but he just wanted to ask me himself, to make sure. I now say and repeat to all our people that I did NOT vote for the "White Slave" Bills, nor did I trade votes on any bills.

The "Independent", after admitting its errors last week goes on to make another, by saying that I voted against Personal Registration.

It seems impossible that this could be anything but an intentional misrepresentation, as there were a good many personal registration bills introduced, but only two of them ever came to a vote—one for cities of the first and second class, and one special bill for personal registration in cities of the third class. I voted for both these bills as finally amended, and they were both passed and signed by the governor.

As I said before, the "Independent" does not give the numbers of the bills they are talking about, but they treat all motions and amendments as though they were the bills themselves, and it is very misleading but when the bills as amended came up for final passage I voted for them and they now are laws in force at the election is this fall.

I can only say that the "Independent" makes many mistakes and misrepresentations.

Very truly Yours,
JOSIAH HOWARD.

Our Fighting Judge.

When President Lincoln called for volunteers in '61 to '63, Doctor Smith was too busy, but now in 1906, he is a candidate on the Lincoln-Republican ticket, fighting that old soldier—Judge LaBar—who stood by Lincoln all through the war and saw active service as a cavalry officer in seventeen battles, includiug Gettysburg and the Wilderness.

President Roosevelt has his eye on the congressional battles being waged in Pennsylvania. He looks to the state to send him a strong Republican delegation. The 21st district will do its part.

It's Up to You Republicans.

Next Tuesday the free men of Cameron county will be called upon to cast their ballots and decide between the parties—whether it shall be to sustain President Roosevelt or rebuke his grand administration. Vote for Stuart and the entire Republican state ticket.

CAPT. CHAS. F. BARCLAY.

For the first time in the history of Cameron county we have been honored with the Republican nomination for Congressman in the person of our estimable citizen, Capt. C. F. Barclay, one of the cleanest men in the state. Give him your vote and help swell his majority to 10,000.

JUDGE B. W. GREEN.

That the citizens of this judicial district, regardless of party, have fully determined to elect our honored citizen, Judge B. W. Green, to the position he has so ably filled during the past few months, for the full term of ten years. It is gratifying to the people of this district, especially Judge Green's neighbors, who have been intimately acquainted with him ever since he gained his majority. Upright, man, honest as a gold dollar, people's friend and protector—even the humblest man can approach him and know that justice will be meted out to him. He is free from entanglements and is known and acknowledged to be one of the brighest minds in the state. The people of this district, regardless of party, are delighted to vote for a man of Judge Green's ablilty and standing. From every county news of the most encouraging nathre is being received that forcibly denote his election by a sure majority. Our people will roll up a handsome vote for Judge Green in this county, our people realizing that the situation in the immediate future demands the election of Judge Green, as the people's protector.

STATE SENATOR.

James K. Wilson, of Clarion county, an honorable gentleman and popular young man, is well received by the people and fully expects to carry Clarion county, thereby giving James Knox Polk Hall the fight of his life.

ASSOCIATE JUDGE.

Never has a more deserving candidate asked the support of the voters of Cameron county than Judge Geo. J. LaBar. A good, accommodating citizen, enterprising and public spirited, he deserves the support of the voters of this county and we believe he will be elected. During the few months Judge LaBar has served as Associate Judge he has paid the strictest attention to his duties. The fact that Mr. LaBar is one of the heavest tax-payers in the county is of itself evidence that he is the proper person to elect. His opponent has been well cared for and should be satisfied. Vote for Geo. J. LaBar as well as the entire Republican ticket.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

The foremost citizen of Cameron county, Hon. Josiah Howard, who has faithfully represented our county at Harrisburg during the past two years, with marked ability and zeal, again asks the suffrage of his friends. That Mr. Howard should be returned to Harrisburg to complete the good work he has commenced, none honestly familiar with the unselfish work of Mr. Howard will deny. Being the largest employer of labor in Cameron county and the leader in all work for the advancement and upbuilding of our county, he is justly entitled to the support and election. We have too much faith in the thinking people of this county to believe they will do other than return him to Harrisburg by an increased majority. His passage of the law to levy a tax of several thousand dollars upon state lands, for the use of our schools and good roads, entitles him, alone, to the hearty support of our citizens, regardless of party. How any friend of Cameron county can vote against such a public spirited citizen as Hon. Josiah Howard cannot be a friend of the county, in fact he must be an ingrate. Work and vote for Hon. Josiah Howard.

PROTHONOTARY.

William J. Leavitt, our nominee for Prothonotary, is meeting with a cordial reception throughout the county. He is sure to be elected by a large majority. The people respect a hustler, especially when a poor boy tramps the county to see the voters. You will make no mistake if you vote for William J. Leavitt, thereby encouraging other poor boys to battle for an education, even though they have to go hungry to bed many a night. Remember when you vote for Mr. Leavitt that you make a cross X after the word Republican in the first column—that does the business.

JURY COMMISSIONER.

John A. Wykoff, of Grove, an old respected citizen, our nominee for Jury Commissioner, of course is sure of election, yet don't forget to vote for him.

Why I Will Vote for Hon Josiah Howard.

Because, he is better qualified to fill the position he aspires to than the gentleman who opposes him.

Because, he speaks ill of no man, not even those little men who juggle with the truth, that they might hide their misdeeds behind his good name.

Because, his business is honorable, and no man is morally better than the business he engages in.

Because, he has helped more poor people in time of need (and said less about it) than any man of my acquaintance.

Because, on Oct. 26, 1906, Grove township received from the state, (through the agency of his land tax bill) $582.04 for road purposes and there is now due $874.26. Which will be paid into school funds, making a total of $1,457.10 that Grove township will receive this year.

Because, I feel it my duty as a citizen and tax-payer to assist in returning him to the Assembly to enable him to finish the task he has so well begun.

Now, Mr. Editor, I have no personal interest in this political contest. It is the principles Mr. Howard stands for that I am devoted to. And should he be defeated I will believe that Cameron county has taken a long stride backward. I wish to say to the little man in the east ward that I may wear a No. 6 hat, but I did not go out of Cameron county to procure funds to purchase it,

A BRYAN DEMOCRAT.
Grove, Oct. 31, 1906.

Sustain Roosevelt.

The following Republican heading appears on the ballot. Make only one X, precisely as this:

REPUBLICAN.	X

Do not make any mistake that may cause the throwing out of your vote. Take the advice of President Roosevelt and vote as above indicated.

The election of Capt. Barclay to congress next Tuesday is conceded, but Republicans must not neglect their duty. Go to the polls and support the party's congressional candidate and make his majority big.

A Great Treat.

The concert given at opera house last Friday evening by Emporium Band was largely attended and delighted every one. Prof. Fisk and his band is to be congratulated upon the excellent music rendered. Give us more of it.

The Judicial Situation.

All reports received from Clinton and Elk are encouraging for Judge Green's election. Cameron county must do her full share on Tuesday next and help swell the majority for Judge Green. Demember, you are fighting for your home and future prosperity of your county.

According to the official figures prepared by the San Francisco department of health, 452 persons lost their lives as a result of the earthquake and the fire which followed it. More than one-half of the deaths were caused by fire, seven persons were shot by the police or soldiers, and two died from the effect of poisonous food dealt out to the hungry. The first reports which came from the stricken city, that thousands had been killed, were exaggerated, as is commonly the case in such calamities.

In these days, when families are moving from one place to another in the hope of bettering themselves, it is interesting to read of an aged woman who died in a New England town in the same house and in the same room in which she was born. For the better part of a century she had been active in the kindly Christian work of the village, and had come to be looked upon as one of its institutions. Famiiles which have an old homestead that has been in the family for generation after generation have a possession worth more than dollars and cents, as every member of an itinerant family will testify.

The Japanese in the late war evidently had some question as to the value of too free surgical help. The Postgraduate states that a most interesting and far-reaching experience on a large scale was performed at the battlefield of Mukden. Several sanitary officers with good surgical training being present, out of 100 soldiers wounded in the abdomen 50 were operated upon by laparotomy, the 50 others left alone, the only treatment consisting in absolute rest and in keeping the external wound opening clean. Of the 50 soldiers operated upon 40 died, of the non-operated 40 survived. This striking result indicated the manner of treatment of abdominal wounds throughout the war.

Father Wrnz (whose name should be pronounced Verniz), the newly-elected general of the Jesuit order, was born in Wurtemberg in 1842, and is the second Jesuit general of German nationality. The first was Father Nicke, chosen for the office in the eighteenth century. Wrnz left Germany when the Jesuits were expelled, and has for the last five-and-twenty years taught canon law at the Gregorian university at Rome. Most of the generals of the order have been Italians. The Italian candidate has been preferred at no fewer than 11 elections. Spain has contributed five generals, Belgium two, and Poland, Switzerland, Bohemia and Holland one each; but there has never been a general of French nationality. The voters on this occasion were 75 in number ,and 71 votes were cast for Father Wrnz.

TRUSTS UNIVERSAL.

IN EUROPE AS WELL AS IN THE UNITED STATES.

Remove the Tariff on Trust Products and the Leading American Trusts Would Supply the American Market from Their Manufactories Abroad.

Nearly every great American manufacturing trust has branches and factories in foreign countries. The tariff rippers may not have considered this fact. If the duty were removed from all trust-made goods, as suggested by Gov. Cummins at Minneapolis four years ago, and by William J. Bryan a few days ago, the result would be the closing of the American factories operated by the trusts and the enlargement of their own foreign factories. And the goods for the American market being then duty free, would be manufactured by the American trusts in their factories where labor is cheaper. The American people would simply have their big mills and factories closed and thousands of Americans thrown out of employment, and the trusts would be in the saddle, making barrels of money in their factories operated by cheap labor in other lands.

Sometimes we think many people refuse to consider these tariff propositions as relating to business and only consider them as relating to politics. The protective tariff is for the purpose of enabling Americans to do their own work and supply their own wants.

The politicians who talk in favor of tariff changes "to meet changed conditions" evidently do not fully know what they are talking about. The only "changed condition" which could justify tariff reduction would be the increase of wages abroad to correspond with American wages, and that has not been done. If American workingmen were called upon to compete with their equals, in skill and compensation, they would not complain, but tearing down the tariff wall would put them in competition with men in other lands who work for 16 to 18 cents per day, and the American workingman is not prepared to thus compete. He is no better prepared now than he was in 1897, when the Dingley tariff was enacted. There has been a slight increase in wages in England, but there has been no increase in Germany, France, Japan, China, India or any other country. We are sometimes tempted to believe that the talk about "lower tariffs" is a blow at American institutions and an attempt to reduce prices to the American "consumer," on the pretext of helping the "consumer" in what he buys without hurting him in what he sells. As we have often said, the tariff was invented to make and keep America prosperous. That end is now accomplished. Then why destroy or even partially destroy the tariff? As Mark Hanna said, "Why not let well enough alone? Why not stand pat?" Why not tell the politicians and office seekers they can have the offices if they will keep their mouths shut on this great business question? —Des Moines Capital.

Canada's Free Trade Farmers.

The farmers of Canada have yet to learn the rudimentary facts relating to the policy of protection to domestic labor and industry. In recent session at Toronto, the Farmers' association of Ontario discussed the revision of the Canadian tariff that is to be made next winter. The discussion resulted in the unanimous adoption of a resolution, declaring "protectionism to be a prolific source of political corruption and moral degradation of the national life, as well as unjust to the great masses of the Canadian people," and demanding that "the tariff should be revised in a lowered or downward direction with a view to eliminating wholly the protection principle."

"Clear-cut, plucky talk," the Buffalo Courier calls this. That is what it would be called by Mr. Bryan, who is tremendously oppressed with a sense of the immorality of protection. Foolish talk we should call it. The American farmer sees nothing immoral in getting big prices for the foodstuffs and raw materials which he sells to near-by wage earners and busy factories. The Canadian farmer, blind to these advantages, and forced to sell his products 3,000 miles away, would abolish protection and stamp out Canadian industry. Some day he will learn his mistake. He will discover that his best customers are home wage-earners and home-feeders, who consume of farm products fully double the amount per capita that foreign wage-earners are able to take and pay for.

Control of Monopolies.

The indications are that the people of the United States will give more attention and study to the solution of the trust and monopoly problem during the next two years than they have given to any other subject, save the money question, since the time of slavery. It is a common thing to approach this subject through the discussion of the tariff, which is said by some to be the mother of the trusts. Time and again it has been pointed out that, while a removal or decided lowering of the tariff might destroy some of the trusts and injure some of the monopolies, the chances are that in the business wreck that would follow and the disasters of the hard times that would be produced by such a decided change of policy the smaller business interests of the country would be the greatest sufferers. The trouble with attempting to cure the trust evil by such an indirect method is that it not only does damage to the trusts, but hits other interests as well --Davenport Times.

HARM IN TARIFF CHANGES.

Experience Has Proved It Means Business Demoralization.

As Mr. Roosevelt seems to recognize distinctly in his letter to Congressman Watson, tariff revision is not a simple question of readjusting this or that particular rate or schedule, as economic conditions change. Nobody would oppose this or that reasonable and harmless readjustment if it could be attained without exciting universal and disastrous perturbation. Unfortunately, hitherto in the history of tariff emendation it has proved impracticable to enact two or three amendments agreed upon beforehand without consenting to innumerable others, some, possibly, innocuous, many mischievous in a high degree. That is why the prospect of any tariff revision inevitably unsettles prices, alarms capital, postpones contracts and paralyzes production. It is the limitless uncertainty that stops the wheels of business. It is, of course, possible in theory to conceive of a tariff revision strictly confined to two or three items which might have no dislocating influence on the nation's industrial machinery. If, for instance, it were practicable for the president to announce that, in his opinion, two or three changes in the Dingley tariff should be made, but that if a bill to that effect should contain any other changes than those specified it would be vetoed by him, not a ripple would be witnessed on the smooth current of the national prosperity. Such a dictatorial announcement, however, would be resented bitterly by the federal legislature, and in practice, therefore, might be out of the question. We infer that, as things are now, and so long as our prosperity endures, President Roosevelt is a stand-patter.—Harper's Weekly.

BLIND LEADING THE BLIND.

Republican Party and the Farmer.

In 1862 Lincoln signed a free homes bill which has added millions to the west's farming population. In 1902 Roosevelt put his signature to a national irrigation act which will place other millions of farmers in the new empire which it will create in the arid region. By its protective tariff acts the Republican party has put the United States in the lead of all the nations in the extent and variety of its industrial activities, and has created a home market which has advanced the price of everything that the farmer has to sell, has increased the value of his land and all other sorts of property belonging to him, has reduced the cost of the things which the farmer has to buy, and has made an addition to his comforts and to his general prosperity and social influence undreamed of in the years preceding the foundation of the Republican party.

In the Republican scheme in which the nation has been developed there has been no forgotten man, white, black, red or brown, low or high, and there has been no neglected calling. In a direct and emphatic degree the American farmer has reason to be grateful for the work which has been done for him by the Republican party. —Leslie's Weekly.

Straight Protectionism.

"We are opposed to any change whatever which would undermine the cardinal principle of the Republican party—protection to American manufactures and labor."—From the platform of the New Hampshire Republicans, adopted in state convention at Concord, September 18, 1906.

Straightforward and simple. All protectionists can unite on it. When protectionists unite success is assured. It is only when they quarrel among themselves that defeat is possible.

Two days later the following was adopted by the Connecticut Republican state convention at New Haven:

"We stand unequivocally for a protective tariff, and we feel that the phenomenal industrial prosperity which we are now enjoying is not to be lightly jeopardized, for it would be to the last degree foolish to secure here and there a small benefit at the cost of general business depression."

Equally straightforward and simple; equally sound and sensible. In neither of these tariff planks can be found any evidence of what Judge Taft in his Bath speech said he had discovered—"a growing sentiment" in favor of tariff disturbance and business instability.

Must Show Need of Change.

It would, of course, be too sweeping to say that tariffs cannot and never do affect trusts. No protectionist avers that a schedule can never be unwisely high. What they do claim is that the noise made by howling free traders is no evidence that a tariff needs revising. We have never had a Republican congress that would not revise the tariff if accurate information and impartial investigation showed that it was needed.—Lebanon (N. H.) Free Press.

SEVEN KILLED

As the Result of an Explosion in a Mine.

JOHNSTOWN, PA.,

Was the Scene of the Accident—All but One of the Victims are Foreigners.

Johnstown, Pa.—By an explosion in the mine of the Cambria Steel Co. here Wednesday seven men are reported to be dead and two painfully but not fatally burned. The explosion is thought to have been caused by the ignition of gas in setting off a blast. Most of the victims are foreigners. The explosion occurred in a heading three miles from the mouth of the mine shaft. Eighteen men are reported imprisoned in the heading, but no mention is made of this in an official statement given to the press by the manager of the Cambria Steel Co. The statement says:

"By an explosion in the Rolling Mill mine of the Cambria Steel Co. Wednesday evening, seven men are dead and two are painfully but not fatally injured. Up to the present time only one of the dead has been identified. He is an American named Sampson Luther. It is believed all the others are foreigners.

"The explosion took place in heading No. 29, a considerable distance from the ill-fated Klondike section, where 114 men lost their lives over four years ago. The exact cause is not known, but it is supposed that the gas was fired by the pulling off of a blast. All the men when found had their safety lamps in proper trim, showing that the accident could not have been caused by neglect in that direction. No damage was done to the workings and the mine will be running Thursday as usual."

"FLYER" WAS WRECKED.

Five Trainmen Injured—Locomotive Slid Down an Embankment Into the Ohio River.

Pittsburg, Pa.— Running at a speed estimated at 50 miles an hour, the fast train between Cleveland and Pittsburg on the Fort Wayne road, known as the "Cleveland Flyer," was sideswiped by the caboose of a freight train near Bellevue station, shortly after noon Wednesday, five trainmen being injured in the wreck, all of whom will recover.

A score of passengers were cut by flying glass, but none were seriously hurt. They were brought to this city on a wreck train that reached the scene 18 minutes after the accident and proceeded on their journey. Their wounds were dressed by physicians that had been sent out from this city.

The collision with the caboose threw the engine down an embankment 30 feet high and it slid into the Ohio river. The baggage car and two passenger coaches were thrown across the rails. The destruction of the former was complete, but none of the passenger cars were damaged beyond the breaking of windows.

ENGINES WERE DEMOLISHED.

Two Men Killed in a Collision on the Big Four Railroad.

Kenton, O. — A freight wreck occurred on the Big Four here Wednesday afternoon in which two men were instantly killed. A northbound train with two engines crashed into a cut of cars being shifted on the main track by the switch engine. The freight engines and six cars were derailed and the engines completely demolished. One fireman and a brakeman were caught under the wreckage and killed.

The engineer of the switch engine saw the freight coming and reversed his engine and jumped. The engine started in the opposite direction so suddenly that it broke loose from the tender and got away before the crash came. It ran wild down the track under a full head of steam to Grant Station, five miles away, where it was ditched by section hands who had been warned by telegraph.

An Expensive Undertaking.

Imperial, Cal.—On Wednesday the water of the Colorado river was turned back into the old channel leading to the Gulf of California, the first water of the Colorado river that has flowed there for two years. Six years ago that portion of the desert known as Imperial valley was colonized and water was brought in from the Colorado river for irrigation. Two years ago the river broke through its bank and flowed in the Salton sink, compelling the Southern Pacific railroad to remove its tracks several times. The company then undertook to turn the water to its old channel, and has at last succeeded, at a cost of $1,000,000.

Ex-Terrorists Act as Detectives.

Warsaw. — Wholesale arrests and domiciliary searches continue in this city. The police, aided by troops, are vigorously running down all information obtained from former Terrorists who are now serving the government as detectives. The situation is growing more serious.

A Lynching in Mississippi.

New Orleans, La.—Tom Crompton, a negro, was lynched near Centerville, Miss, Wednesday. It is alleged that he confessed to the murder of Ely Whitaker, a farmer.

EXPLAINED.

Amongst the guests at a certain seaside boardinghouse was a young man with a countenance so gloomy that he excited the interest of an amiable and chatty old lady, who made an effort to draw him into conversation.

"It's a lovely day," she commenced.

"Yes, wretched," replied the melancholy man, absently.

Somewhat perplexed, the lady inquired how he liked the place.

"The worst I ever visited," was the unpromising rejoinder.

"But there are some very nice people here."

"Are there? I haven't met any."

It was not encouraging, but the old lady was persistent, and deftly changing the subject inquired his views on the political situation.

"I think," he said, gloomily, "we shall have either a war or a revolution. And," he added ominously, "the sooner the better."

After that the good old soul gave it up, and sought an opportunity of taking counsel with the landlady on the state of his mind.

The landlady smiled reassuringly. "Did you notice the young lady in pink who sits opposite to him at meals? Well, that's his sweetheart."

"Indeed; but they never speak to each other."

"That's just it; they quarrelled the first day they came here, and they haven't made it up yet."

HE GUARDED JEFF DAVIS.

SOLDIER WHO WATCHED OVER CONFEDERATE PRESIDENT.

Was on Duty at Fortress Monroe When Davis Was a Prisoner There —He Served Thirty Years in the Regular Army.

St. Louis.—S. A. Trask, who recently resigned as assistant marshal of Webster Groves, Mo., and who served many years in the United States regular army, was at one time a guard over Jefferson Davis, the leader of the confederacy, while the latter was a prisoner at Fortress Monroe, Va., soon after the close of the civil war.

For 35 years, he has been a wearer of the blue, having served for 30 years in the regular army and for two years and six months served as conductor on the Suburban railway in this city. He has occupied the position he lately resigned for a period of two years and four months.

He removed to St. Louis on his retirement from the army, and has lived here up to the date of his appointment as assistant marshal of Webster Groves, when he moved, with his family, to that place.

Trask participated in many of the most important campaigns and engagements against the hostile tribes of Indians in the west, notably the great winter campaign in the Big Horn country, under Gen. George Crook, and which terminated with the battle of Red Rock Canyon, on the north fork of the Powder River November 25, 1876. In this battle there were engaged from 3,000 to 5,000 Sioux and Cheyennes under White Antelope, and 13,000 cavalry under Col. R. S. MacKenzie. The fight resulted in breaking the spirit of the red men, who had slaughtered Gen. Custer and his brave band.

Trask served under Gen. Crook in Arizona during the campaign of 1872 and 1873, when six months' of scouting and skirmishing subdued the Tonto Apaches. His troop, under command of Capt. George Price, was the first that ever succeeded in marching through the Tonto basin, which for ages was the stronghold of the Tontos. He was at Fort Grant, Ariz., when the Tonto chief surrendered to Gen. Crook.

He was also present at Fort Larrime, Wyo., when the great Chief Red Cloud made his last treaty with the government, and was selected as orderly to the Indian commissioner when 3,000 feathered and painted braves, the picked men of the Sioux Nation, came to the fort to listen to the speeches of their chiefs and the commissioner in regard to that treaty.

Scouting, escorting and campaigning took up the first 15 years' service of Mr. Trask, and he can relate many hair-raising incidents in which he participated.

Mr. Trask served 15 years as post quartermaster sargeant. He was appointed from regimental quartermaster sergeant, and was among the first to fill that important position.

He was on duty at Fort Bowie, Ariz., when the noted Chief Geronimo surrendered. He took an important part in that campaign by supplying and issuing stories to the troops on the field.

He was on duty at Fort Abraham Lincoln, N. D., in 1887, and under Lieut. A. C. Sharp, wound up the business of that post after it had been ordered abandoned. He lowered the last flag that floated over that historic post, and has it as a sacred memento.

He was then sent to Fort Bennett, S. D., where he took a similar part in the abandonment of that post, and with his family went through some thrilling experiences with the treacherous Mission River and Dakota blizzards.

S. A. TRASK.
(An Old Soldier Who Has Remarkable Record.)

For his faithful services he was ordered to duty at West Point, where he served for two years and a half in charge of the quartermaster stores. He can relate many interesting anecdotes of that famous military school.

At his own request, he was then ordered to report for duty at Fort Meade, S. D., at that time one of the most important points in the northwest. There he served for five years, and for his faithful service during that time received special mention from the inspector general.

At the close of hostilities with Spain Mr. Trask, having reached the period of 30 years' service, and having a family of interesting children, applied for his retirement from active service. His request was granted, and with his wife and children Mr. Trask came to St. Louis to take up his residence.

Though 58 years old, he is still hale and hearty, and looks as rugged and active as a young soldier.

MR. METCALF

Goes to Frisco as the President's Agent.

BOYCOTT OF JAPS

By the People of that City Causes Alarm in Official Circles, as It Violates Treaty Rights.

Washington. — President Roosevelt on Friday night directed Victor H. Metcalf, secretary of the department of commerce and labor, to proceed to San Francisco and make a thorough inquiry into the situation affecting the exclusion of Japanese children from the schools provided for white children and the determination to place Japanese pupils in separate schools. The president is anxious to obtain at first hand from a cabinet officer who is acquainted with local conditions in San Francisco full information affecting every phase of the subject.

The determination to send Metcalf to San Francisco was one of the results of the request made by Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, who at a conference with Secretary Root on Thursday asked in behalf of his government that the Japanese subjects in California be accorded their full rights under the treaty of 1894, including that of the children to attend the public schools of San Francisco.

This request was the subject of earnest discussion at the cabinet meeting Friday, when the conclusion was reached that the best thing to do was to send Mr. Metcalf to secure all the data which could have any possible bearing on the situation. He will leave here to-day.

Incidental to the inquiry into the school question Mr. Metcalf will pay some attention to the charges made by Viscount Aoki that Japanese restaurant keepers in San Francisco have suffered indignities. Seven or eight reports have been made concerning a boycott inaugurated against these restaurants and these reports state that agents have been posted to prevent patrons from entering the restaurants and in several instances stones have been thrown and windows broken.

A member of the cabinet said after the meeting that the general opinion of the cabinet was that the situation was exceedingly grave and would require the most delicate treatment to prevent an open rupture.

A BLOW TO MR. HEARST.

New York Supreme Court Says that Many Candidates of the Independence League Must Get Off the Ticket.

New York.—The appellate division of the supreme court, reviewing the decisions of the board of elections on contested nomination cases in New York county, handed down a decision Friday removing from the ticket a majority of the candidates nominated by the Independence league for congress, the state senate and the assembly. In a few instances contested candidates will have places on the ballot for the reason that objection to their candidacy was not made within the prescribed time. To these will be added several against whom no protest was entered and who still will be placed, not under the balanced scales, the emblem of the league, but in another column beneath a distinctive symbol.

The decision affecting these local nominations is based on technicalities, the petitioners in each instance failing to observe the letter of the law.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Commercial Progress Is Not Checked by the Few Adverse Factors that Appear.

New York.—R. G. Dun's Weekly Review of Trade says:

Traffic delays, high money and some unrest in the ranks of labor have not checked commercial progress on the whole, although in special industries the restraining influence of these adverse factors are felt. Some irregularities of temperature also provide the week's trade reports with less glowing descriptions of retail distribution. Wage earners are agitating for more pay or shorter hours in several industries, especially in the railway service. Manufacturers and dealers are making plans for the greatest business on record in jewelry and other holiday lines.

A further advance of about 50 cents per ton in the price of pig iron is the best evidence of continued prosperity in that industry. There is little speculation beyond what might be called legitimate provision for future needs.

Gave His Life for Others.

Spartansburg, S. C.—Newton Tillotson, 55 years of age, for 22 years in the employ of the Southern railway, was killed Friday by plunging in front of a passenger train in a successful effort to save an aged man and woman who were crossing the track in a buggy.

Found Four More Corpses.

Kansas City.—Four bodies were removed on Friday from the ruins of the Chamber of Commerce building in Kansas City, Kan., making the total known dead to date eight.

PERISHED IN FLAMES.

People in an Apartment House at Kansas City, Kan., Are Roasted to Death.

Kansas City, Kan.—Four persons are known to be dead, eight others are missing, two are fatally injured and 50 are suffering from hurts as the result of a fire which destroyed the Chamber of Commerce building in this city Thursday. A single body has been recovered from the ruins, that of D. R. Young. It is known that Charles A. Lynch, a laborer, and the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sparks are dead, but their bodies have not been recovered. J. F. Branham, a wagon maker, died at the hospital. It is thought that the total dead will be about ten.

The Chamber of Commerce building was situated at Park and Central streets, in the Riverview district of this city. It was at a junction of the elevated railways two blocks west of the Kaw river and a mile southeast of what now is the business district of this city. It was erected 14 years ago at a cost of $85,000, to be used as a board of trade. The city grew away from it, however, and it was never used for its original purpose.

When the firemen arrived at the burning building they saw men hanging from window sills on the upper floors, and frantic women with babies in their arms and children clinging to them leaning far out from the windows, unable to find any means of escape and yet taking advantage of the little fresh air which the windows afforded. The firemen quickly ran their ladders up, but they did not reach above the third floor. Many persons were on the floor above. The firemen first devoted themselves to the people on the second and third floors and did not heed the screams of the people above. Many persons in the interior of the building were already overcome by the dense smoke and had to be carried out by the firemen. But many were able to escape down the ladders without assistance.

After getting everyone they could find out of the second and third floors, the firemen turned their attention to the people above. As the ladders did not reach above the third floor, the men on the fourth floor literally pitched their wives and children down to the firemen on the ladders and then jumped down themselves.

RESCUED FROM A RAFT.

Five Survivors of the Wreck of a Houseboat on the Florida Coast Are Landed at Norfolk, Va.

Norfolk, Va.—Counting the minutes, which seemed to them to be but few intervening between them and death, bruised, bleeding, hungering and athirst, five men adrift on a bit of wreckage off the Florida coast saw one of their companions whose sufferings had driven him mad throw himself into the sea to death and not longer afterwards a ship which was coming saved their lives.

The five survivors of one of the greatest tragedies which has ever occurred on this coast were landed here Thursday by the British steamer Heatherpool.

The survivors are Frank Revely, foreman, of Marianna, Fla.; Gus Johnson, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Ben Clarke, of Somerville, Mass.; Abner Bell, of Kissimee, Fla., and John Campbell, of Philadelphia.

They, with about 145 others, were constructing a concrete viaduct for the Florida East Coast railway, through the Florida keys, and were aboard houseboat No. 4, which lay anchored off the coast on the night of October 17. The great hurricane which swept over the coast struck the houseboat about 1 o'clock on the morning of October 18, and No. 4 broke adrift.

The houseboat soon afterwards foundered and all of the 150 men aboard were thrown into the sea. The houseboat was dashed to pieces by the waves.

Many of the men were killed by heavy timbers which struck them as they were struggling to find means of rescue. Six men lashed together two timbers, one 10 by 20 inches in thickness and breadth and the other 6 by 14 inches and both 20 feet long, and lived on this raft until one man became mad from suffering and injury and threw himself into the sea.

On the morning of October 19 Capt. Grieves, of the Heatherpool, standing upon the bridge of his ship, heard cries for help and discovered the raft.

TRAIN STRUCK A CAB.

Three People Killed in a Collision at Woodside, L. I.

New York.—Three persons were killed and three seriously injured in a collision at Woodside, L. I., Thursday, between a Long Island railroad train and a coach which was returning to New York from a funeral at Calvary cemetery. The dead:

Patrick Healy, 44 years old.
Anna Healy, 3 years old.
Eleanor Healy, 2 months old.

The injured:

Mrs. Patrick Healy, spine injured.
Thomas Lynch.
Edgar Griffin, driver of the coach.

Griffin drove the vehicle directly in front of the rapidly approaching train.

BEST-GUARDED MAN IN EUROPE

Constantinople.—In the Turkish budget for the coming year several

THE SULTAN OF TURKEY.
(Forty-Three Thousand Spies Are Employed to Guard Him.)

million dollars are set aside to provide for the personal security of the sultan, Abdul Hamid. It is well-known to people who have traveled in Turkey that the sultan has at his personal service a regular army of spies who are said to number 43,000. Three thousand of these are employed near the sultan's palace, while several thousand more are scattered through the capital, some of them making a special object of their espionage the foreign ambassies.

All over the Turkish empire are the sultan's spies, scattered so that even high officials do not escape their vigilance. Besides, the bodyguard of the Turkish sovereign, which numbers 35,000 men, is like a living wall which surrounds the sultan in moments of danger. These soldiers are paid between $40 and $100 a month.

The sultan leads a very regular life. He rises at five or six every morning, and after a walk in the spacious gardens of his palace he is ready for breakfast, which he generally eats all alone. Osman Effendi, his special secretary, tastes all food before the sultan partakes of it, and he is the only one allowed to be present at the morning meal of the Turkish sovereign. After breakfast the sultan spends an hour or two in his libraries, of which he possesses four, well stocked with books and manuscripts in all sorts of languages, among which are thousands of works of great value which have never seen the light of publicity.

PRIEST A NOTED COMPOSER.

Produced Many Celebrated Oratorios That Have Brought Fame.

New York.—Rev. Father Hartmann von an der Lan-Hochbrunn, a member of the Franciscan Order of Friars, who is a celebrated composer of oratorios, and who has the distinction of being the third musician selected as a member of the Italian Academy of Immortals and the fourth German admitted to membership, is in this country.

Father Hartmann is a native of Salurn, Tyrol, and comes of a German family which was admitted to the nobility by King Leopold I., in 1694. If he were not a priest he would bear the title of count, to which he is entitled by virtue of his ancestry. As a musician he is regarded as among the most talented of the European composers, and his oratorios "St Peter," dedicated to Cardinal Parochi; "St. Francis of Assisi," dedicated to the emperor of Austria; "The Last Supper" and "The Death of Christ," dedicated to the German emperor, rank among standard musical productions. He was educated in the Conservatory of Music of Posen, under Busch, Zipperle, Deluggi and Auzoletti.

After becoming a friar his work as an organist attracted the attention of Peter Singer, a celebrated European musician, who at once marked him out for promotion. In 1893 Father Hartmann became the organist of the Catholic church in Jerusalem, and was director of the Philharmonika there. Called to Rome in 1895, Father Hartmann became organist of the Church Ara Coeli, and two years later was appointed a director of the Conservatory of Music of St. Chiara in Rome.

Because of his musical triumphs Father Hartmann was decroated by the pope with the Golden Cross, first class, Ecclesia et Pontifice. The emperro of Austria has conferred upon him the Golden Medal of Merit and he is also a Knight of Austria. He has also the decoration of the Franz Joseph order, founded in 1848.

A Hall Ring Outrage

An Honest and Industrious Working Man Taken to task by J. K. P. Hall in Person

AND LOST HIS JOB

Because He Would not Promise to Vote for Harry Alvan Hall for President Judge.

JOHNSONBURG, PA., OCT. 29, 1906.
Editor Ridgway Advocate:

DEAR SIR:—The Democratic organization of Elk county, under the leadership of State Senator, J. K. P. Hall, is notorious for its disreputable methods of forcing poor people to do their bidding and drag their chestnuts out of the fire, but they are very smooth in their manner of performance and it is hard to fasten a direct charge of this kind against them personally, and they deny with great indignation every charge that is brought against them and brand such rumors as venomous lies. The articles recently appearing in the Pittsburg Gazette-Times describing some of their outrages are known to be true by nine-tenths of the people of Elk county, and yet the Hall ring have the nerve to deny these charges most emphatically in the public prints.

I have a specific case against them that cannot be truthfully denied, and with your permission I would like to have it explained to the public as a sample of how they will impose on a poor workingman when he dares to raise the arm of rebellion against them. I am a victim of their wrath, and because I have dared to declare that I intend to vote for Hon. B. W. Green for President Judge of this district I am to-day out of work, with a large family depending upon me for support. The story of my loosing my situation is as follows:

I was employed for nearly six years in the wholesale liquor store of C. M. Mead in Johnsonburg until last Friday, October 26, 1906, when I was taken to task by Mr. Mead, who was being seriously embarrassed by the democratic organization nagging him because I had on several occasions declared myself in favor of Judge Green. In all the time I had worked for Mr. Mead he had treated me as a perfect gentleman, and when I saw I could not have my political freedom and hold my job without imperiling his business, I told him I would take my time and quit, which I did.

The circumstances leading up to my loosing my situation were as follows: On returning from a fishing trip recently, Mr. Mead was informed by some of the Democratic watchdogs that I had been shouting for Judge Green. Mr. Mead asked me about this report and stated the Democratic workers blamed him for instigating my talk. I told Mr. Mead that I was sure he was innocent of such a charge, as we had not talked any politics whatever this fall, and that if necessary I would make an affidavit that he was in no way to blame for my sentiments, but at the same time I told Mr. Mead I was for Judge Green and proposed to vote for him, but if my talking was embarrassing him I would cheerfully refrain from further talk along that line, for his sake.

On Wednesday, Oct. 17, the next day following the circumstances related above, Senator J. K. P. Hall and Associate Judge Thos. B. Gillouly came to the liquor store of Mr. Mead and after having a talk with Mr. Mead, I was sent for to come to the office. As Senator Hall and Judge Gillouly had met me twice during the afternoon and recognized others who were with me and did not even notice me, I concluded that I was in for a chastising, when I was sent for to go to the office. I went to the office in a short time, expecting to get a calling down. When I reached the office SenatorHall met me very cordially and introduced me to Judge Gillouly. I was given a chair between Senator Hall and Judge Gillouly, when Mr. Hall said, in the presence of my employer, "Mr. Bottorf, I understand that you are working for Mr. Green for President Judge." I replied, "Yes, Mr. Hall, I have been talking that way for some time, but on the start it was a good deal of "hot air," and more in retaliation for jokes thrown at me than anything else, but the fact is I am and always have been a Republican, though for the sake of Mr. Mead's interests I have voted the democratic borough and county ticket for a number of times since I have been in his employ—and I intend to vote for Judge Green." Mr. Hall remonstrated with me and stated that I had been with Mr. Mead a long time and had voted with them before and that they would like to have me with them this time. He claimed his brother is as fit a man for the position as there is in this district, and I admitted that he was a man of ability. He also said, "Mr. Bottorf, you might be brought to Ridgway some time and we are in a position to do you a whole lot of good." After some other such persuasive arguments Mr. Hall said, "now Mr. Bottorf, I want you to make me a promise—I would like you to promise me that you will support my brother for Judge." I replied, "No, Mr. Hall, I am for Judge Green." But he persisted in having me answer that I would support his brother, and I replied that he was taking me too suddenly; that I had no time to think the matter over and I would not make him such a promise. I told him I would make him the same promise that I had made Mr. Mead the day before, and that was though I was going to vote for Judge Green I would not do any more shouting for him, and then Mr. Hall said, "Well it is quite a while yet till election, and in the mean time if you make up your mind to support my brother, let Mr. Mead know of your decision in the matter." I replied that if I made up my mind to do so I would inform Mr. Mead to that effect. This ended our conversation at that time and we parted.

The next morning I was met on the street and told that the democrats were advertising that they had fixed me up, and they were using that argument to get others into line. This made me indignant, but I still kept my promise until the following Monday night, many other little things coming up in the mean time to show that they were not satisfied, but still determined to pursue me and make things uncomfortable for me.

I sincerely tried to keep my promise after this, but to make matters worse, Mr. Mead was again taken to task the following Monday by a Democratic emissary from Ridgway and told that I was peddling copies of the Gazette-Times containing articles against the Democratic organization of Elk county. Mr. Mead took me to task about the paper, and I replied that I had not been circulating the paper, but now that I would do so. I told him the man I had made the promise was not there, but he ought to have some representative there as I wanted to withdraw my promise, for hereafter it was all off and I was going my clip to the limit. Our conversation was renewed on the following Friday when I told Mr. Mead that I had never deserved nor received any abuse from him in all the years I had worked for him, and every time some man came up from Ridgway to complain of me, I did not feel that I deserved it and did not propose to take it. He told the bookkeeper to make up my time and I received my pay and departed. Afterwasds I told Mr. Mead I had handled a great deal of his money while in his emplay, but that I never got a dollar of it except what he had agreed to pay me for my service, and he replied, "Frank, I know it."

I can also truthfully say that I have not only been square and honest with Mr. Mead at all times, but also honestly protected the interests of the manufacturers from whom he purchased his beer when unscrupulous retailers would try to take advantage of them when they were not present to protect their own interests, especially in one instance when the retailer wanted to recork and return to the brewery two half barrels from which he had wasted a great deal of beer by his own carelessness in tapping the cask.

I want the people of Elk county and the whole judicial district, and especially the workingmen to know I how I had been treated in this matter, and I hope enough of them will resolve on election day to go to the polls and vote to defeat the Hall ring and give us a new deal in this district, so that there may be at least a little poiitical freedom in our much boasted free America.

F. E. BOTTORF.

Four great plays are to be revived this year for which the theatre going public who enjoy the modern drama and plays worth while should be truly thankful. The plays are "The Proud Prince," made famous by E. H. Sothern, which will be played by Porter J. White; "The Gladiator," of the phenomenal successes of the late John McCullough, to be added to the repertoire of Thomas E. Shea; "Jack Cade'i and "Matamore," both synonomous with the success and life of Edwin Forrest—the former to be used by Henry B. Irving during his American tour, the latlatter by Robert B. Mantell. It is also announced that Messrs. Nixon & Zimmermad will name their new Philadelphia theatre the Edwin Forrest, the first American theatre to bear the name of America's most famous tragedian—a Philadelphian who founded a a home for destitute actors in Philadelphia, who lived and died in the Quaker City. It is a grand tribute that such respect should be shown his memory. Emporium Opera House, Thursday evening, Nov. 8th.

Honest Democrats Resent This Insult.

"Who steals my purse steals trash; .....but he who filches from me my good name, robs me of that which, not enriches him, but makes me poor indeed."

The above is just as true to-day as it was in the days of Shakespeare, who gave it utterance. I was forcibly reminded of this when reading the unfair imputations cast upon the good name of Hon. Josiah Howard by the Independent, the organ of the Democratic party in this county. Everybody who knows Mr. Howard, knows him to be a man of high ideals, of pure mind, possessed of an honest desire to do good for humanity, not for the sake of simply winning the applause of men, but for the good's own sake and for the happiness he may by so doing, bring to the hearts of those less fortunate than himself; a man liberal with his time, his talents and his possessions for the general welfare. He is recognized as among the leaders, in fact the leader, for the general good in our community; and a constant laborer for the upbuilding of humanity. A column or two of this paper could be filled by enumerating, off-hand, some of the various enterprises and good works that have been fostered by his kindly influence and generosity. So therefore when I see a man like this put in a unfair light for political purposes, and his good name traduced simply to gratify personal political ends, it makes me brace up and take notice.

To say that Mr. Howard would do anything to support houses of ill fame is too far from the truth to let pass without a word of vigorous protest. Our people all know that his whole life contradicts such an imputation. To so distort facts and records as to make it appear that he was in league with such like evil influences is an insult not only to Mr. Howard but to our entire respectable community. It is unfortunate that any man, or set of men should be so blinded by their political desires, inclinations or influences as to so tear down a noble character a good man has spent a lifetime in building up. This act on the part of the Democratic organ has influenced me to vote for Mr. Howard, and I hereby call upon all fair-minded democrats to also vote for him and helJ to vindicate his good name.

There are numerous reasons why every democrat in the county could with propriety vote for him, but this one alone ought to stir up their manly manhood and give him their hearty support.

FAIR MINDED DEMOCRAT.

Pleasantly Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Forbes entertained a party of twenty friends, last Saturday evening, at their pleasant home on Fourth street, duplicate whist being the chief amusement. After enjoying an elegant lunch the guests departed, delighted with the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Forbes.

A Dastardly Outrage.

A reward of $25 is offered for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the culprits who lowered and tore into strips the American flag at the High school building on Wednesday night. The element that has no more honor and patriotism in it than to do a thing of this kind should be hunted down and treated to a term in prison. It is to be hoped that these culprits were not our school boys. A person guilty of such an outrage should receive a neat sentence for this dastardly trick and no doubt will. An effort will be put forth to locate the unprincipled persons. The informer's name will not be revealed.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

President Roosevelt said in his speech at Harrisburg, the other day, that the last Pennsylvania Legislature, the one of which the Hon. Josiah Howard was a member, had done more good work than any other state legislature ever did in the some length of time, and the President knows good work when he sees it. Vote for Howard!

Doctor Smith and Frank Blumle have been either running for office or holding office the most of the time for 20 years. Vote for Howard. Vote for LaBar!

Cameron county has never been so prosperous as now and much of her prosperity is due either directly or indirectly, to the operations of Howard and Company. Other operators, whom we all can name, have made their money here and having made their "wad" have stuffed it in their pockets and gone away. Mr. Howard having made his money here, stays here to spend it and build up our county. Vote for Howard!

The Hon. George J. LaBar has never known to go back on a friend and it is to be hoped that his friends will remember him now.

This election is one of the most important elections ever held in this county and very much of our future welfare hinges on our action now. It is absolutely indispensible that we vote in a body for Barclay, Green, Howard, LaBar and Leavitt, if we would not imperil our very existence as an independent county. It is all very well to talk of this advice as ante-election buncombe and bluster, but the safest way is the best way and less likely to lead to regrets in the future. Men of Cameron think deep down in your heart and act—act for your homes.

Vote for Green and Barclay, and do your plain duty, not as Democrats and Republicans merely but as citizens of Cameron county.

Men of Cameron Listen.

Editor Press:—

I left Cameron county Sept. 4th, 1906, on a business trip, and I hope to be home to vote the Republican ticket, for the Republican ticket represents the principles that Roosevelt has fought through so far. Voters he needs your support, by voting the Republican ticket from head to foot. The main issue next November is Roosevelt. In a letter to the PRESS two years ago, the other side called Roosevelt the rough rider. In reply I said how quick he would leap into his saddle and with his ready blade defend the homes of the American people. Has he not done so? Yes, for in your homes prosperity dwells. Voters, if there is a candidate on the Republican ticket that you have had trouble with in your business transactions settled with him in a business manner, do not try to get back at him through the ballot box, for that will not keep flour in the barrel, or sugar in the box, for you are not voting for the candidate but for your home, self and prosperity. Last Nov., on account of the Enterprise Bank, of Pittsburg, Pa., the cry was that the bank was robbed by the cashier or politicians, and that we had no laws, but we should elect men who will pass laws to punish that class of people. For the benefit of the voter I will quote some of the laws, that we have: Bank robbery, not exceeding $10,000, imprisonment by solitary confiment at labor not exceeding 20 years; embezzelment by trustees, by bankers, by officers of corporations, falcifying accounts or books, or false statements by officers of corporations, punishment, fine not exceeding $1,000 and imprisonment by solitary confinment at labor not exceeding six years; embezelment by bank officers, punishment, imprisonment in the penitentiary at hard labor not less than one or more than ten years. Now you can see why the other side caught us napping and made us believe that our treasury was in danger, and we elected Berry to take charge of it. How quick we found out our Treasury was safe. We have no use for Berry's November next, still we hear the same old cry from the other side that the Republican machine must be stopped and fixed. What is wrong with it? There is nothing wrong, she has not one flat wheel and if you will listen at the crossings you will hear her hum as she goes onward delivering her load of prosperity in your homes and schools, and we are going to vote to let her run and hustle to keep up to her Voters I am one of the common people and I am writing in the language of the common people. My foot steps have been with you in the rough paths of life. I have been with you in your companionship, in joy and sorrow, I have known some in their sorrow to turn their backs. instead of protecting their rights walk from homes in silent sadness. Voter I wish to ask you what is wrong with the Republican machine, as it is called, it is called when there are jobs galore for more labors than can be found, at big wages, to do the work. Put the other machine on the road and you will run back where you were a few years ago, hunting jobs at low wages.

While in Pittsburg a few days ago, I learned that during the past nine months there was expended in the erection of residences, alone over fourteen million of dollars, at least five millions this sum goinfi into the pockets of the labor. When you vote next Tuesday vote to continue this prosperity and simply place an X after the word Republican in the first column on the ticket. If you love your family and desire to enjoy these prosperous times vote to sustain Roosevelt by placing your X in the first box at the left of the ballot.

Yours Respectfully,
SMITH WHITMAN.

Falls Creek, Pa., Oct. 20th; 1906.

Nick Russell, whose comedy company will appear at the Emporium Opera House, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening, Nov. 1st, 2nd and 3rd, had all kinds of trouble in getting his company together. It was not that actors were scarce—the Rialto has been full of them for weeks past—but the difficulty was to get players capable of filling the roles in the plays selected by Mr. Russell for his tour this season. Such plays as "Peaceful Valley," "Wife in name only" and "The Poor Mr. Rich" are not the kind that ordinary repertoire actors can play and each play is so different that it takes remarkably clever players to "make good." It is told on good authority that since rehearsals of the pieces started a month ago, that Mr. Russell has tried out over thirty actors and found them wanting. Finally, however, he got together a company of sixteen people who were fully capable in every way and the result is one of the strongest organizations playing at popular prices that ever toured the country. Mr. Russell has provided a magnificent scenic equipment for each of the plays in his repertoire.

All men who desire the best in government can conscientiously vote for Capt. Barclay for congress, next Tuesday.

Give the president a congress that will vote in favor of the things he stands for. Do the work thoroughly in the 21st district by sending Capt. Barclay to Washington.

Mrs. Thos. Cleary who has been visiting her daugter, Mrs. Fritz Yonker at New Martinville, W. Va., returned home last Satnrday. Mrs. Yonker and two children accompained her home and will visit relatives here several weeks.

Harry Haupt and Edward Klock, of Emporium, were the guests of friends in town over Sunday.—Port Allegany Reporter.

In this district Capt. Barclay will undoubtedly receive the vote of the Lincoln Republicans, but to vote for him they will need to exercise special care as his name does not appear in the Lincon party columns.

Eye Specialist.

Prof. W. H. Budine, the well known Eye Specialist, of Binghamton, N. Y., will be at R. H. Hirsch's jewelry store, Emporium, Pa., November 10th. If you can't see well or have headache don't fail to call and see Prof. Budine, as he guarantees to cure all such cases. Lenses ground and fitted in old frames. Eyes tested and examined free. All work guaranteed.

Lest We Forget.

With election day only a few days away, let us give our mind to the good men and true who represent the Republican ticket in the county this year. Capt. Chas. F. Barcray, for Congress; Hon. Josiah Howard for Representative; Benjamin W. Green for President Judge; Geo. J. LaBar for Associate Judge; Wm. J. Leavitt for Prothonotary; J. P. McNarney for District Attorney and J. A. Wykoff for Jury Commissioner. What better men could you wish for? These men are in every way fitted for the responsible offices they are nominated for and their characters are beyond reproach. So let us mark our ballots for these deserving men and we never will regret the deed. Endorse the entire Republican ticket.

National Protective Legion.

The National Protective Legion, No. 1239, of Cameron, Pa., held a very successful meeting in the K. G. E. Hall, Thursday evening, Oct 25th, and through the combined efforts of the members and Deputy Organizer, J. P. Brown, of Jersey Shore, who has been with us the past two weeks succeeded in voting into the order 49 new certificates.

We are pleased to see so many of our friends taking such an active interest in the plan and working of our order and we heartily welcome them into our midst and earnestly solicit the membership of others, who have not already taken up the work, and ask them to study carefully the plan of the National Protective Legion, which offers to the wage-earner of the country an opportunity to save and invest for the future a small portion of his or her monthly earnings.

The Legion is rapidly becoming one of leading faternal institutions in the country. For a small sum invested each month of from $1.00 to $4.00 it provides for its members in case of sickness and accident and for his or her family at death, but you do not have to die to win as each five years it pays a dividend. It is an old and reliable co-operative institution having had 17 yeaas experience. We have a membership of over 200,000 and over $3,000,000 assets.

We ask you to read our literature carefully and learn our plan and invite you to join us in our noble order of N. P. L.

Honorable Recognition.

We are pleased to note the dictinction which our fellow townsman, Dr. R. P. Heilman, has received. He has been invited to be one of a limited number of the leading physicians in the United States to become a charter member of the National Association of Advanced Modern Therapentists about to be organized. This association is to be devoted to the promotion of everything that is good and pure in the "practice of legitimate medicine." It is a step of broad-mindedness beyond everything in this line, existing at the present day. We congratulate the doctor on the receipt of this invitation. It is a distinguished recognition of his modest ability and liberal culture by the leaders in the profession.

Clear Steal.

The Lincoln party of Cameron county are as mad as a March hare over the steal perpetrated by the Democratic Ring of Cameron county, who made out certificates endorsing the Democratic candidates on the county ticket as Lincoln Republicans. The steal is bitterly denounced here and has cost the Fusion ticket, in this county at least, every Lincoln vote. People's Star Course.

Board opens at H S. Lloyd's bookstore Nov. 8th, 7:30 a. m. Course tickets including reserve seats for the series of five entertainments $1.50 each, except for the first five rows, for which there will be an extra charge of 25c for the course.

First attraction, at Opera House Nov. 9th, The Italian Boys' Orchestra and Elbert Foland the Boston Humorist.

The instrumentation of the orchestra is as follows: Solo Violin, Second Violin, Flute, Clarinet and Harp The boys are all Italians, which neces-sarily means that they are musical. They introduce in their program selections from the great composers, which they have committed to memory. There is a dash and brilliancy, together with exqusite shading and correct interpretatation, which appeals to all lovers of good music.

Buffalo, N. Y.—The Y.M.C. A., audiences have had a great variety of talent from time to time. It some times seems next to impossible to satisfy our patrons, but The Italian Boys and Mr. Foland completely filled the bill. The Boys are a surprise in the quality of the music they attempt and in the excellence of their rendering. Mr. Foland abundently supplies that other element that serves to round out an entertainment and send everybody home feeling that the evening has been well spent.

The committee is confident that the five attractions for this winter's course is the best that have ever been given in this town.

Birthday Party at Canoe Run.

The young people of Canoe Run gave Miss Irene Georgia a surprise party, Thursday evening, in honor of her 13th birthday. They passed a very pleasant evening, with games and other amusements. Those present were: Gene, Harold and Fred McClure, Sarah, Mary, Isabella and Joseph Harrison; Mary, Fred and Robert Holmes; Flora, Gundy and Charles Cornwall, James Harrison, Agnes Greenalch, Dorothy and Mary Crugar and Elizabeth Davis. A very enjoyable evening dinner was served at 6:30. Everybody enjoyed a good time.

"The last sense to die is pride, because it was the first virtue. Everything that has an ego has pride, in fact, the ego itself is a manifestation of pride. The most subtle form of pride is the humility that prides itself upon being without pride." These are the words of Elbert Hubbard, the famous Philistine, and it is positively known to the author that he wrote that paragraph after having witnessed a performance of Justin Huntley McCarthy's successful drama, "The Proud Prince," the most wonderful of modern dramas, a veritable classic among the stage work of to-day. CHAPTER III.—Continued.

"Why, my dear Virginia—the idea! You don't know in the least what you are talking about. I have been reading in the papers about these right-of-way troubles, and they are perfectly terrible. One report said they were arming the laboring men, and another said the militia might have to be called out."

"Well, what of it?" said Virginia, with all the hardihood of youth and unknowledge. "It's something like a burning building; one doesn't want to be hard-hearted and rejoice over other people's misfortunes; but then, if it has to burn, one would like to be there to see."

Miss Bessie put a stray lock of the flaxen hair up under its proper comb.

"I'm sure I prefer California and the orange groves and peace," she asserted. "Don't you, Cousin Billy?"

What Mr. Calvert would have replied is no matter for this history, since at this precise moment the rajah came in, "coruscating," as Virginia put it, from his late encounter with the superintendent's chief clerk.

"Give them the word to go, Jastrow, and let's get out of heah," he commanded. And when the secretary had vanished the Rajah made his explanations to all and sundry. "I've been obliged in a manneh to change ouh itinerary. Anotheh company is trying to fault us up in Qua'tz Creek canyon, and I am in a meashuh compelled to be on the ground. We shall be delayed only a few days, I hope; at the worst only until the first snowstorm comes; and, in the meantime, Califo'nia won't run away."

Virginia linked arms with Bessie the flaxen-haired when the wheels began to turn.

"We are off," she said. "Let's go out on the platform and see the last of Denver."

It was while they were clinging to the hand-rail and looking back upon the jumble of railway activities out of which they had just emerged that the Rosemary, gaining headway, overtook another moving train running smoothly on a track parallel to that upon which the private car was speeding. It was the narrow-gauge mountain connection of the Utah line, and Winton and Adams were on the rear platform of the last car. So it chanced that the four of them were presently waving their adieux across the wind-blown interspace. In the midst of it, or rather at the moment when the Rosemary, gathering speed as the lighter of the two trains, forged ahead, the Rajah came out to light his cigar.

He took in the little tableau of the rear platforms at a glance, and when the slower train was left behind asked a question of Virginia.

"Ah—wasn't one of those two the young gentleman who called on you yestehday afternoon, my deah?"

Virginia admitted it.

"Could you faveh me with his name?"

"He is Mr. Morton P. Adams, of Boston."

"Ah-h; and his friend—the young gentleman who laid his hand to ouh plow and put the engine on the track last night?"

"He is Mr. Winton—a— an artist, I believe; at least, that is what I gathered from what Mr. Adams said of him."

Mr. Somerville Darrah laughed, a slow little laugh deep in his throat.

"Bless your innocent soul—he a pichuh-painteh? Not in a thousand yeahs, my deah Virginia. He is a railroad man, and a right good one at that. Faveh me with the name again; Winteh, did you say?"

"No; Winton—Mr. John Winton."

"D-d-devil!' gritted the Rajah, smiting the hand-rail with his clenched fist. "Hah! I beg your pahdon, my deahs—a meah slip of the tongue." And then, to the full as savagely, "By heaven, I hope that train will fly the track and ditch him before ever he comes within ordering distance of the work in Qua'tz Creek canyon!"

"Why, Uncle Somerville—how vindictive!" cried Virginia. "Who is he, and what has he done?"

"He is Misteh John Winton, as you informed me just now; one of the brainiest constructing engineers in this entiah country, and the hardest man in this or any otheh country to down in a right-of-way fight—that's who he is. And it's not what he's done, my deah Virginia, it's what he is going to do. If I can't get him killed up out of ouh way,—" but here Mr. Darrah saw the growing terror in two pairs of eyes, and realizing that he was committing himself before an unsympathetic audience, beat a hasty retreat to his stronghold at the other end of the Rosemary.

"Well!" said the flaxen-haired Bessie, catcheing her breath. But Virginia laughed.

"I'm glad I'm not Mr. Winton," she said.

CHAPTER IV.

Morning in the highest highlands of the Rockies, a morning clear, cold and tense, with a bell-like quality in the frosty air to make the cracking of a snow-laden fir bough resound like a pistol shot. For Denver and the dwellers on the eastern plain the sun is an hour high; but the hamlet mining camp of Argentine, with its dovecote railway station and two-pronged siding, still lies in the steel blue depths of the canyon shadow.

In a scanty widening of the main canyon a few hundred yards below the station a graders' camp of rude slab shelters is turning out its horde of wild-looking Italians; and on a crooked spur track fronting the shanties blue wood smoke is curling lazily upward from the kitchen car of a construction train.

All night long the Rosemary, drawn by the speediest of mountain-climbing locomotives, had stormed onward and upward from the valley of the Grand, through black defiles and around the shrugged shoulders of the mighty peaks to find a resting-place in the white-robed dawn on the siding at Argentine. The lightest of sleepers, Virginia had awakened when the special was passing through Carbonate; and drawing the berth curtain she had lain for hours watching the solemn procession of cliffs and peaks wheeling in stately and orderly array against the ky background of sky. Now, in the steel-blue dawn, she was—or thought she was—the first member of the party to dress and steal out upon the railed platform to look abroad upon the wondrous scene in the canyon.

But her reverie, trance-like in its wordless enthusiasm, was presently broken by a voice behind her—the voice, namely, of Mr. Arthur Jastrow.

"What a howling wilderness, to be sure, isn't it?" said the secretary, twirling his eye-glasses by the cord and looking, as he felt, interminably bored.

"No, indeed; anything but that," she retorted, warmly. "It is grander than anything I ever imagined. I wish there were a piano in the car. It makes me fairly ache to set it in some form of expression, and music is the only form I know."

"I'm glad it it doesn't bore you," he rejoined, willing to agree with her for the sake of prolonging the interview. "But to me it is nothing more than a dreary wilderness, as I say; a barren, rock-ribbed gulch affording an indifferent right-of-way for two railroads."

"For one," she corrected, in a quick upflash of loyalty for her kin.

The secretary shifted his gaze from the mountains to the maiden and smiled. She was exceedingly good to look upon—high-bred, queenly and just now with the fine fire of enthusiasm to quicken her pulses and to send the rare flush to neck and cheek.

Jastrow, the cold-eyed, the business automaton set to go off with a click at Mr. Somerville Darrah's touch, had ambitions not automatic. Some day he meant to put the world of business under foot as a conqueror, standing triumphant on the apex of that pyramid of success which the Mr. Somerville Darrahs were so successfully uprearing. When that day should come, there would need to be an establishment, a menage, a queen for the kingdom of success. Summing her up for the hundredth time since the beginning of the westward flight, he thought Miss Carteret would fill the requirements passing well.

But this was a divagation, and he pulled himself back to the askings of the moment, agreeing with her again without reference to his private convictions.

"For one, I should have said," he amended. "We mean to have it that way, though an unprejudiced onlooker might be foolish enough to say that there is a pretty good present prospect of two."

But Miss Carteret was in a contradictory mood. Moreover, she was a woman, and the way to a woman's confidence does not lie through the neutral country of easy compliance.

"If you won't take the other side, I will," she said. "There will be two."

Jastrow acquiesced a second time.

"I shouldn't wonder. Our competitor's road seems to be only a question of time—a very short time, judging from the number of men turning out in the track gang down yonder."

Virginia leaned over the railing to look past the car and the dovecote station, shading her eyes to shut out the snow-blink from the sun-fired peaks.

"Why, they are soldiers!" she exclaimed. "At least, some of them have guns on their shoulders. And see—they are forming in line!"

The secretary adjusted his eye-glasses.

"By Jove! you are right; they have armed the track force. The new chief of construction doesn't mean to take any chances of being shaken loose by force. Here they come."

The end of track of the new line was diagonally across the creek from the Rosemary's berth and a short pistol shot farther down stream. But to advance it to a point opposite the private car, and to gain the altitude of the high embankment directly across from the station, the new line turned short out of the main canyon at the mouth of the intersecting gorge, describing a long, U-shaped curve around the head of the lateral ravine and doubling back upon itself to reenter the canyon proper at the higher elevation.

The curve which was the beginning of this U-shaped loop was the morning's scene of action, and the Utah track layers, 200 strong, moved to the front in orderly array, with armed guards as flankers for the hand-car load of rails which the men were pushing up the grade.

Jastrow darted into the car, and a moment later his place on the observation platform was taken by a wrathful industry colonel fresh from his dressing-room—so fresh, indeed, that he was coatless, hatless, and collarless, and with the dripping bath sponge clutched like a missile to hurl at the impudent invaders on the opposite side of the canyon.

"Hah! wouldn't wait until a man could get into his clothes!" he rasped, apostraphizing the Utah's new chief of construction. "Jastrow! Faveh me instantly, seh! Hustle up to the camp there and turn out the constable, town marshal, or whatever he is. Tell him I have a writ for him to serve. Run, seh!"

The secretary appeared and disappeared like a marionette when the string has been jerked by a vigorous hand, and Virginia smiled—this without prejudice to a very acute appreciation of the grave possibilities which were preparing themselves. But having her share of the militant quality which made her uncle what he is, she stood her ground.

"Aren't you afraid you will take cold, Uncle Somerville?" she asked, archly; and the Rajah came suddenly to a sense of his incompleteness and went in to finish his ablutions against the opening of the battle actual.

At first Virginia thought she would follow him. When Mercury Jastrow should return with the officer of the law there would be trouble of some sort, and the woman in her shrank from the witnessing of it. But at the same instant the blood of the fighting Carterets asserted itself and she resolved to stay.

"I wonder what uncle hopes to be able to do?" she mused. "Will a little town constable with a bit of signed paper from some justice of the peace be mighty enough to stop all that furious activity over there? It's more than incredible."

From that she fell to watching the activity and the orderly purpose of it. A length of steel, with men clustering like bees upon it, would slide from its place on the hand-car to fall with a frosty clang on the cross ties. Instantly the hammermen would pounce upon it. One would fall upon hands and knees to "sight" it into place; two others would slide the squeaking track gauge along its inner edge; a quartette, working like the component parts of a faultless mechanism, would tap the fixing spikes into the wood; and then at a signal a dozen of the heavy pointed hammers swung aloft and a rhythmic volley of resounding blows clamped the rail into permanence on its wooden bed.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

SCIENCE AND INVENTION.

THE PERISCOPE.

Description of the Eye of the Submarine.

The submarine, as a practical mechanism of war, would be unusable without some means by which its commander may see what is going on around and above it. This is furnished at present by the periscope, which A. Sauvaire Jourdan, a retired officer of the French navy, writing in La Nature, and translated for Literary Digest, calls with some justification, "the eye of the submarine." Writes Mr. Jourdan:

"In principle, the periscope is composed of a tube of small diameter placed vertically on the upper part of the submarine. Its lower end penetrates into the boat, while its upper end rises above the water by a few inches.

"It works by one of the simplest optical devices—the use of mirrors. A mirror in the upper end of the tube, inclined to 45 degrees to the horizontal, receives the images of objects on the water and sends them vertically downward to a second parallel mirror at the lower end of the tube, within the submarine. . . .

"Though every maritime nation has adopted for its submarines an instrument based on this theory, some, as in our own case, have an excellent one, while others have been retarded in the utilization of submarines by the insufficiency and ineffectiveness of their optical devices. . . .

"Without betraying military secrets, we may give a few details regarding the installation of the periscope on French submarines, which will make their working a little clearer.

"In the first place, the mirrors, spoken of above, are replaced by prisms. The arc of the horizon covered by the upper prism is about 90 degrees. The periscope has two tubes, a short one, fixed in the hull . . . and a movable one which slides in it. The latter is pushed up above the surface, or withdrawn below it, at will.

"The tube is moved up and down by a screw, a counterweight, or even by a little electric motor, as in our latest models. The upper prism is fixed in the movable tube, the lower one in the stationary tube. Certain imaginary pictures that have recently been published show the images . . . thrown on a horizontal table under the eyes of the commanding officer. This is an error. The observer places his eye at a single or double eyepiece, through which he sees the ocean and objects upon it exactly as his comrade does with his field glass on the deck of a battleship.

"When it is necessary to examine the horizon in another than the forward direction . . . the observer grasps two handles on the movable tube and turns it in the desired direction. . . . The quality of the vision is pronounced excellent by the commanding officers of all our submarines. The images are sharp and clear, and may be compared with those of a good field glass."

In case of rough water, the author goes on to say, the drops easily run from the inclined surface of the upper prism, and the latter may be cleared at any time by pulling it under water, and then pushing it up quickly. He goes on:

"Thus the periscope is the eye of the submarine, without which it would be absolutely unusable. But this indispensable organ is also the sole means by which the presence of the submarine is revealed. The tube, small though it be, leaves a wake behind it, which is apt to attract the attention of those who are watching for the attack.

"This is an evil without a remedy, but its gravity need not be exaggerated. What can be done by a ship that discerns this slight object at short distance? To destroy it by gunfire would be difficult in so brief a time, and the destruction of the periscope would leave the submarine unharmed. . . .

Design of Periscope: 1, 1, Mirrors; 2-2, Tube; 3, Surface of Sea; 4, Ship on Horizon; 5, Its Image in Interior of Submarine.

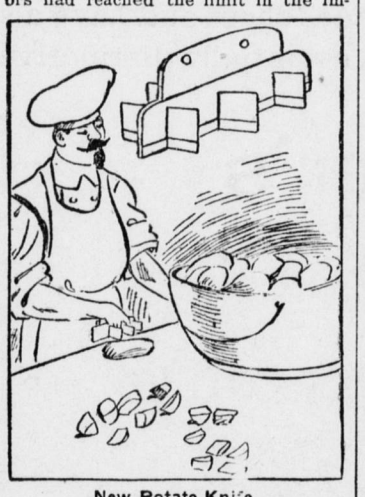
"Besides this, nothing is easier than to have a second periscope for use in case the first is destroyed; and this has actually been done in our latest submarines.

"We may imagine the nervous strain of the officers and crews of a warship who fear an attack of submarines. All floating objects, the slightest debris, bottles, fishermen's buoys, will be suspected of being periscopes, and a hail of projectiles will be directed on the most inoffensive objects, while the real enemy may pass unnoticed. . . . Probably the submarines will encourage these mistakes by scattering about them all sorts of floating objects, in the midst of which their periscopes will have a good chance of escaping notice."

IMPROVED POTATO KNIFE.

At One Operation the Potato Is Cut Into Eight Pieces.

It has been surmised that inventors had reached the limit in the improvement of household inventions, but this does not seem to be the case. Inventors still are on the lookout for some device that will prove a household necessity, as they realize it will command a ready market.



New Potato Knife.

As an example, an Iowa man has patented a knife for cutting potatoes that does eight times the work of the ordinary knife. Instead of requiring eight cuts to divide the potato into pieces it is all done at one operation.

The illustration plainly shows the construction of the knife, no description being necessary. Six small blades and one center blade, attached to a handle, are all that is required. One stab at a potato divides it into eight pieces. In hotels, restaurants, etc., where thousands of potatoes are cut up each day, this knife would save considerable labor and time.

New Pen Metal.

An American patent has been granted for making pens of tantalum or its alloys.

A LAMP OF SCIENCE.

Important Use Discovered for the Mercury Vapor Lamp.

An important use has been found for the Cooper Hewitt mercury vapor lamp in scientific investigation. In optical experiments in the laboratory it is often important to have at command a monochromatic light. Formerly the mercury arc light was employed for this purpose, but after being used for a short time, the efficiency of this source of light seriously falls off. It has been found, however, says Youth's Companion, that the Cooper Hewitt lamp gives the same monochromatic light, with very fine rays, so that it is admirably suited for the study of interference phenomena, and it possesses the great advantage of being steady and trustworthy in its output. Moreover, being a commercial apparatus, it is easily obtained, and can be used at a comparatively small expense.

A New Word.

French aeronautic authorities have given the name "aeronef," or aviation apparatus, to a flying machine that is heavier than the air. The varieties include: (1) the helicopter, sustained and driven by one or several propellers; (2) the aeroplane, chiefly sustained by one or more flat or curved surfaces, and (3) the orthopter or mechanical bird, sustained and propelled by beating wings.

THEY CURE ANÆMIA

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the Most Successful Remedy for All Forms of Debility.

Anæmia, whether it results from actual loss of blood, from lack of nutrition due to stomach trouble, or whatever its cause, is simply a deficiency of the vital fluid. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood. They do that one thing and they do it well.

"As a girl," says Mrs. Jessie Fink, of 180 East Mill street, Akron, Ohio, "I suffered from nervous indigestion and when I was eighteen years old I was reduced in weight to 93 pounds. I was anæmic, nervous, couldn't eat or sleep, was short of breath after the least exertion and had headaches almost constantly. I had a doctor, of course, but I might as well have taken so much water for all the good his medicine did me. Finally my vitality and strength were so reduced that I had to take to my bed for several weeks at a time. I could not digest any solid food and for weeks I did not take any other nourishment than a cup of tea or beef broth.

"While I was sick in bed I read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I stopped all other medicine and began to take the pills. Soon my improvement was very noticeable. My strength began to return, my stomach gave me no pain and just as soon as I began to take solid food I gained in weight. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills certainly saved my life. I am now perfectly well, have regained my normal weight of 120 pounds and I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a wonderful medicine."

These celebrated pills are recommended for stubborn stomach trouble, for all cases of weakness and debility, such as result from fevers and other acute diseases. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or they will be sent by mail postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Longest and Oldest Tunnel.

The near completion of the Pennsylvania tunnel reminds the American Israelite of the oldest known tunnel in the world, that of Shiloah, near Jerusalem. It was used as an acqueduct. The famous inscription, discovered a few years ago, celebrates the first meeting of the diggers from both sides. Newspapers did not appear in those days, and so the event cannot be exactly dated, but it most probably took place under King Hezekiah, about 700 B. C., and is an interesting testimony to the high state of civilization among the Jews at a time when Europe was inhabited by savages.

Worry Postal Authorities.

Because the postal administration has imposed a duty of five pfennigs instead of two on postal cards intended for urban delivery, the citizens of Hanover have inaugurated a singular strike against the postal authorities. Instead of writing postal cards, they all write letters, and, not satisfied with sending their effusions in an envelope, they fill it with newspaper so as to bring the weight of the letter to the maximum of 250 grams. As the envelopes they now use are of the maximum size tolerated it is easy to obstruct a letter box with only a dozen of such missives. The postal authorities are alarmed at this obstruction of the postal service, and it is probable that the former tariff of two pfennigs on postal cards will have to be reestablished.

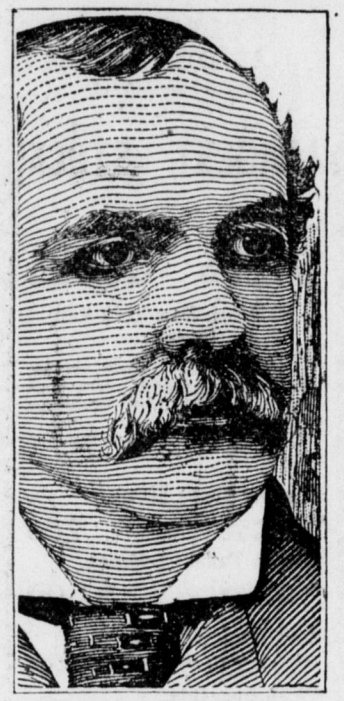
UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM SOUTH CAROLINA PRAISES PE-RU-NA.



Ex-Senator M. C. Butler.

Dyspepsia Is Often Caused By Catarrh of the Stomach—Peruna Relieves Catarrh of the Stomach and Is Therefore a Remedy For Dyspepsia.

Hon. M. C. Butler, Ex-U. S. Senator from South Carolina for two terms, in a letter from Washington, D. C., writes to the Peruna Medicine Co., as follows:

"I can recommend Peruna for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine, besides a good tonic."

CATARRH of the stomach is the correct name for most cases of dyspepsia. In order to cure catarrh of the stomach the catarrh must be eradicated. Only an internal catarrh remedy, such as Peruna, is available.

Peruna exactly meets the indications.

Mrs. Craigie's Address.

An amusing story of the late Mrs. Craigie, the noted novelist, was told the other day at the Author's club in New York.

"When Mrs. Craigie was in America last year," said the editor, "she was invited to make an address at a certain meeting. She accepted the invitation, but her name, through some oversight, was put far down on the programme, and worse than that, the chairman, a rather stupid person, introduced before her some speakers who were not on the programme at all.

"In short, it was close on to 11 o'clock when the chairman, with a pleasant smile, bowed and said:

"'Mrs. Craigie, the eminent author of "Some Emotions and a Moral," will now give us her address.'

"Mrs. Craigie rose and said, calmly:

"My address is No. 56 Lancaster Gate, Hyde Park, W., London, and I now wish you all good-night, for I am far from home."

German Life Insurance.

According to the Cologne Gazette, there are in Germany more insurance policies than inhabitants—80,000,000 policies, as against a population of under 60,000,000; which shows that a large proportion are insured in two or more companies. The indemnities paid by German insurance companies amount to about $24,000,000 a month.

Beavers Construct Long Dams.

Beavers have been known to construct a dam no less than 1,530 feet in length.

A FOOD CONVERT.

Good Food the True Road to Health.

The pernicious habit some persons still have of relying on nauseous drugs to relieve dyspepsia, keeps up the patent medicine business and helps keep up the army of dyspeptics.

Indigestion — dyspepsia — is caused by what is put into the stomach in the way of improper food, the kind that so taxes the strength of the digestive organs they are actually crippled.

When this state is reached, to resort to stimulants is like whipping a tired horse with a big load. Every additional effort he makes under the lash increases his loss of power to move the load.

Try helping the stomach by leaving off heavy, greasy, indigestible food and take on Grape-Nuts—light, easily digested, full of strength for nerves and brain, in every grain of it. There's no waste of time nor energy when Grape-Nuts is the food.

"I am an enthusiastic user of Grape-Nuts and consider it an ideal food," writes a Maine man:

"I had nervous dyspepsia and was all run down and my food seemed to do me but little good. From reading an adv. I tried Grape-Nuts food, and after a few weeks' steady use of it, felt greatly improved.

"Am much stronger, not nervous now, and can do more work without feeling so tired, and am better every way.

"I relish Grape-Nuts best with cream and use four heaping teaspoonfuls at a meal. I am sure there are thousands of persons with stomach trouble who would be benefited by using Grape-Nuts." POULTRY AND BEES

SIMPLE TRAP NEST.

Gives Good Satisfaction at Ontario Agricultural College.

The design of a trap nest shown herewith is used by the Ontario agricultural college and is well recommended as being very effective. The door is adjusted just low enough so that the hen upon entering brushes against it slightly and thus raising it, allows the hook, c, to drop back, releasing the door. The nest is 12 inches wide, 12 inches high and 15 inches long. The door, a, is made of very light material, so that it will be pushed upward as the hen enters the nest. To set the nest the door is raised and the hook caught slightly under one of the slats, as illustrated. Trap nests are useful if you wish to keep track of the laying records of your different hens.

MARKETING LIVE POULTRY.

Some Points to Consider to Secure the Best Returns.

In all large cities there is a constant demand throughout the year for all kinds of live poultry. A large proportion of this live stock is absorbed by the Jewish trade, as orthodox Jews will not use meat of any kind unless it is killed by a certain method under the direction of a rabbi. Each large market has a slaughter house, where animals and birds are slaughtered according to these prescribed rites. The best prices for live poultry are secured at the time of the Jewish holidays, the dates of which vary from year to year. They can be ascertained through any commission house or dealer.

Occasionally the price of live poultry is as high as for dressed stock, and under these conditions it is a waste of time to dress the birds before shipment. This is particularly true if the market is near at hand, as the birds will not shrink much when being shipped but a short distance.

For shipping live poultry to market well-constructed crates are particularly desirable, says the Montreal Herald. They should be of sufficient size to avoid causing discomfort to the birds, yet small enough to permit easy handling by expressmen and others. Long crates should be equipped with solid cross partitions to prevent the birds being thrown together at one end when the crate is tipped in handling. Failure to observe this simple precaution often results in the loss of a number of birds in each shipment. All crates should be thoroughly ventilated, as in crowded express cars they are frequently piled one above another, and many birds are smothered in this way.

AVOID MEDICINES.

Poor Practice to Dope Fowls to Keep Away Disease.

Some people follow the practice of putting medicine in the drinking water of the fowls. They imagine that it is keeping away disease. As well think of putting medicine in the drinking water of human beings. We know that the way to keep any creature healthy is to give that creature good living conditions and good food, with sunlight and exercise. If that will not induce a body to remain healthy nothing else will.

I always avoid the use of drugs in the water that is given the fowls, and I have no faith in them at all, says a writer in Farmers' Review. Some say put them in to kill the germs. If the germs are about, boil the water and that will kill them without injuring the intestines of the fowls. The membranes of the fowls are very tender, anyway, and I imagine that they are very easily hurt. I am certain that much injury has been done first and last by putting powerful drugs in the food and drink of the poultry. Medicines should be used only when the fowls are sick and not when they are well. I have not much faith in them even when the fowls are sick.

Don't Be in a Hurry.

I would advise producers not to demoralize the market by rushing in their honey too early; and also shipping to unknown parties, writes a beekeeper in Farm Journal. I have always found sale for my crop near home. I should rather give my neighbors the benefit of low prices, than to ship and be compelled to make a low price.

Sunflower Seeds.

Feed sunflower seeds occasionally but never more than three times a week. Being so rich in oil, they tend to cause shedding of feathers. Linseed meal being of the same nature should be used in the same way. When hens are slow to moult at the proper time, hasten the process by these foods.

LIGHT VS. DARK HONEY.

The Flavor of the Latter Is Preferred by Some.

While those of cultivated taste, who are wonted to the very best that the culinary art can give us, much prefer and praise only the lighter grades of honey, like that from basswood, clover, alfalfa, white and black sage and the mesquite, yet there are others—and I have known not a few such—who prefer and always select the dark honey when they can get it, says Prof. A. J. Cook, in California Cultivator. Such people prefer the flavor which is always present in the darker grades of honey. I have one friend, a college professor and long a colleague, who always preferred buckwheat honey, and laid in his supply in the late fall when he could get this kind. While I was glad to supply him this, I always laughed at him and expressed surprise at his taste. The golden rod honey and other honey from the autumn wild flowers in the east, though not quite as dark as that from the buckwheat, are highly colored and somewhat pungent in flavor. Here belongs the amber honey of our wild buckwheat of California. While most will prefer the white grades of honey and others who will prefer honey of the darkest hue, like buckwheat, the wideawake beekeeper will be on the sharpest lookout for customers, especially of these latter classes, for thus he may gain a market for all kinds of honey at good prices. If a person thinks that buckwheat honey is the best, or if he prefers the amber-colored honeys, he will make no objection to paying the best market price for honeys of these grades. The friend I referred to above never objected to giving me a first-class price for buckwheat honey. Indeed, it would hardly be consistent to claim that a honey is first-class or of the best quality and yet request that a lower price be asked for it.

Another point of interest in this relation has to do with the grading of honey. The up-to-date beekeeper will see to it that his honey is kept by itself, for it will always bring the highest figures in the market. Later in the season, as the bees commence to gather from sources which give amber colored honey, the whiter grades will all be extracted that the amber honey may be kept by itself. In this way the grade of the lighter honey will not be lowered. In California the beekeeper cannot be too careful in extracting to keep his sage and alfalfa honey entirely separate from that from the wild buckwheat. It is even more important that the still darker buckwheat honey be kept by itself. It is hardly necessary to suggest that these darger grades of honey are just as suitable for wintering the bees as is any that is produced. Thus it behooves the beekeeper to extract the lighter honey and let the bees fill up the combs with the darker varieties in the later part of the season for their own food during the winter.

With the beekeeper, as with those in any department of agriculture, it is important to grade carefully. There are few points which the beekeeper should study with more thoroughness than that of grading. If he is producing extracted honey he has only color to guide him in making up his grades. If, on the other hand, he is working for comb honey, then he must have a lookout not only for color, but for the number of uncapped cells, completeness of the sections and the general appearance of the same.

ROOSTS AND NESTS.

Here Is a Good Arrangement for the Poultry House.

The nests are about 14 inches square and 20 inches above the floor. The platform, A, is three feet wide by seven feet six inches long, the roosts being of the same length and 22 inches by two. For heavy breeds to enable them to reach the roost more easily a board to serve as a step should be fastened by means of hinges either to the partition wall or to the platform.

BEES AND POULTRY.

Plum trees planted in the poultry yard benefit both tree and hens.

Honey that is sealed will stand much more dampness than that which is unsealed.

Nothing will make hens lay more eggs and develop young pullets faster than green cut bone.

All propolis, or bee glue, should be carefully removed from each section. This is easiest done with an old table knife.

The honey should be piled a few inches off the floor, and a little out from the wall; otherwise that near the bottom and side of the room will accumulate moisture.

More sour milk than you know what to do with? Set a panful of it where the hens can get at it, and see how quickly it will disappear. You couldn't put it to a better use. The hens can turn it almost directly into eggs.—Farm Journal.

Gasoline and Alcohol.

The greater safety of alcohol, as compared with gasoline for commercial uses, is due to the fact that it will not ignite from pure radiated heat, as gasoline does; that water will extinguish burning alcohol while it will only spread a fire of gasoline, and that the flames of burning alcohol radiates very little heat while that of gasoline radiates heat very rapidly.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Makes Celluloid Fireproof.

M. Gavain, a French chemist, has patented a process for rendering celluloid proof against fire. This result is obtained by adding to a celluloid mass in course of preparation, when at the highest point of liquidity, a certain quantity of salts—phosphates, bicarbonate of ammonia, or magnesia. Celluloid thus prepared, when touched by fire or flame, gives forth a gas that checks combustion.

TERRIBLE SCALP HUMOR.

Badly Affected with Sores and Crusts —Extended Down Behind the Ears —Another Cure by Cuticura.

"About ten years ago my scalp became badly affected with sore and itching humors, crusts, etc., and extended down behind the ears. My hair came out in places, also. I was greatly troubled; understood it was eczema. Tried various remedies so called, without effect. Saw your Cuticura advertisement, and got the Cuticura Remedies at once. Applied them as to directions, etc., and after two weeks I think, of use, was clear as a whistle. I have to state also that late last fall, October and November, 1904, I was suddenly afflicted with a bad eruption, painful and itching pustules over the lower part of the body. I suffered dreadfully. In two months, under the skillful treatment of my doctor, conjoined with Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, I found myself cured. H. M. F. Weiss, Rosemond, Christian Co., Ill., Aug. 31, 1905."

Repartee Won Hearers.

A good story is told of Frances Lady Waldegrave, who long since paid her debt to nature. She was a woman of quick repartee and many husbands. It was soon after her fourth matrimonal venture with Chichester Fortesque, an Irishman, that she appeared in a Dublin theater with the bridegroom. From the gallery a man shouted down to her: "And which iv the four do you like best?" From her box her answer rang out: "The Irishman, of course." And the Irish peopled house rang with applause.

A WOMAN'S KIDNEYS.

Women have much to do, so many pains to suffer, so many critical periods to go through, that it is important to keep the kidneys well, and avoid the backache, bearing-down pain, headache, dizziness, languor and other common signs of weak kidneys. Mrs. Charles E. Smith, of 22 Boyden St., Woonsocket, R. I., says: "My kidneys were weak from childhood, and for eight or ten years past my back was very painful and I had many annoying symptoms besides. When I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills I weighed only 120. To-day I weigh 165, and am in better health than for years. Doan's Kidney Pills have been my only kidney medicine during four years past. They bring me out of every attack."

OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Two Grateful Letters from Women Who Avoided Serious Operations.—Many Women Suffering from Like Conditions Will Be Interested.

When a physician tells a woman, suffering from female trouble, that an operation is necessary it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart. As one woman expressed it, when told by her physician that she must undergo an operation, she felt that her death knell had sounded.

Our hospitals are full of women who are there for just such operations!

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but such cases are much rarer than is generally supposed, because a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after the doctors had said an operation must be performed. In fact, up to the point where the knife must be used to secure instant relief, this medicine is certain to help.

The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who, by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, have escaped serious operations.

Margrite Ryan, Treasurer of St. Andrew's Society, Indianapolis, Ind., writes of her cure as follows:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I cannot find words to express my thanks for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did me. The doctor said I could not get well unless I had an operation for the trouble from which I suffered. I knew I could not stand the strain of an operation and made up my mind I would be an invalid for life. Hearing how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had saved other women from serious operations I decided to try it, and in less than four months I was entirely cured; and words fail to express my thankfulness."

Miss Margret Merkley, of 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, severe shooting pains through the pelvic organs, cramps, bearing-down pains, and an irritable disposition compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said that I had a serious female trouble and ulceration, and advised an operation as my only hope. To this I strongly objected—and I decided as a last resort to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"To my surprise the ulceration healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared, and I am once more strong, vigorous and well; and I cannot express my thanks for what it has done for me."

Serious feminine troubles are steadily on the increase among women—and before submitting to an operation every woman should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. for advice.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been curing the worst forms of female complaints, all functional troubles, inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement, weakness, irregularities, indigestion and nervous prostration. Any woman who could read the many grateful letters on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office would be convinced of the efficiency of her advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mr. Ives was thoroughly frightened and as he entered the gate he saw another figure crouching in the fence corner, seeming to avoid recognition, but Mr. Ives' courage was up and held his lantern close and discovered the well-known face of a young man from the other end of the Hill. The question now arises why was the young lady on guard with a gun defending this young man.

Capt. Barclay represents the popular policies of a popular President. Vote for Barclay for congress next Tuesday.

SINNAMAHONING.

About three inches of snow on the mountains Tuesday morning.

W. L. Barclay, of Laquin was a visitor here last week.

Mr. Wm. Kepler, of Westport, visited his daughter, Mrs. Geo. P. Shaffer Tuesday.

P. S. Mead went to Renovo Monday.

Several cases of whooping cough in town.

A. A. Cole moved into the B. V. Wykoff house this week. Chas. Kinsley moved into the house vacated by Mr. Cole.

Several cases of drunk in town lately. Too much—whiskey.

Mrs. C. E. Reese, of Andrews, Pa., was in town Tuesday with her daughter, Flora, to consult Dr. MacFarland.

W. C., No. 136, P. O. S. of A., held a banquet and social Monday evening in their hall. Thirty three couples were seated around the well filled board and all had a nice time and a pleasant evening.

On last Saturday the 27th J. R. Batchelder, Treasurer for the Grove Supervisors, received from Commissioner of Forestry Hon. Robert S. Conklin, $582.84 being 2 cts. per acre on state land in Grove township.

Hon. Josiah Howard was calling on his many friends in town Tuesdyy. Mr. Howard has done good work for Grove township and the people will not forget him next Tuesday.

The Sinnamahoning Powder Co., resumed making powder again this week.

W. J. Leavitt, candidate for Prothonotary was calling on his many friends Monday. Every one speaks highly of Mr. Leavitt and he will be remembered next Tuesdsy.

Wm. A. Foutz, of Straight, Pa., has been in town a few days this week, in the interests of the Hall family of Ridgway.

Don't anybody tell Jim Mead how Charley Scnyder fooled him Monday, by shooting into the brush and patting the leaves with his hands to make James believe he had a pheasant.

Wm. Kelley, of Kettle Creek, reports that he and John Hix were out after bear, when Hix located bruin and shot and missed him. Bruin turned on Hix when he dropped his gun. Mr. Bear picked up the gun and turned it on Hix, but it being a hammerless kind it bothered the bear a little, giving time for Kelley to get in his deadly work with his Winchester, thus saving Hix's life. It was lucky for Hix that his gun was a hammerless. Other bear hunters take warning.

The liars club held a short session Saturday night, in Pap Blodget's barn, for the purpose of re-organizing for the winter. Look out for some big ones; when the club gets started.

DEBSE.

HUNTLEY.

Henry Layton and A. W. Smith made 50 ties on Monday, after which Mr. Layton played a game of base ball. How is that for an old man? No Dr. Osler in his.

W. R. Smith has finished making cider. The operators at the tower thank him kindly for his nice bottle of cider contributed.

GROVE HILL.

The Austin Pulp and Paper Co., have a crew of men finishing up the paper wood in this section.

H. P. Hill has returned from Buffalo, where he purchased a fine draft horse.

Elmer E. Hill has just shipped a fine load of buchwheat to the Dents Run mill. Elmer says, he must have his pan cakes and hog honey.

G. S. Hill has finished his farming and is now making ties tor the P. R. R. Co.

Dorothy the eldest daughter of Albert Jordan has been very sick, but is some better at this writing.

Audrey Hill is attending school at Huntley as there is no school on Grove Hill this year.

T. M. Hill has a large contract cutting logs for Barclay Bro's. The only trouble seems to be the great scarcity of men.

We have a great many kinds of graft these days but the latest is the school or educational graft. This is to say, the directors grafting the education from the children. One term the truant officers will be around forcing even one pupil that does not attend school and the next term the whole school will be cut out. Something must be wrong with the law.

Everything is straight Republican in this part of the county. No room for Democrats np here.

"For years I starved, then I bought a 50 cent bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, and what that benefitted me all the gold in Georgia could not buy. I kept on taking it and in two months I went back to work as machinist. In three months I was as well and hearty as I ever was. I still use a little occasionally as I find it a fine blood purifier and a good tonic. May you live long and prosper."—C. N. Cornell, Roding, Ga., Aug. 27, 1906. Kodol sold here by R. C. Dodson.

The best treatment for indigestion and troubles of the stomach is to rest the stomach. It can be rested by starvation or by the use of a good digestant which will digest the food eaten; thus taking the work off the stomach. At the proper temperature, a single teaspoonful of Kodol wholly digest 3,000 grains of food. It relieves the present annoyance, puts the stomach in shape to satisfactorily perform its functions. Good for indigestion, sour stomach, flatulence, palpitation of the heart and dyspepsia. Kodol is made in strict comformity with the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

From a Cameron County Boy.

To the Democratic Voters of Grove:

Though I am not there now, there is not a one of you more familiar with the political situation, now than I.

Five years ago I cast my first vote there and have only voted in one other place, but my heart has always been with the voters of Grove and I know the situation.

Vote for your neighbor Capt. Chas. F. Barclay, for Congress. The one man in Grove township that never turned down a worthy cause. The one man you all went to in case of sickness or hard times for help. How many of you has he trusted with the wherewith, all that kept the body and soul together? But not alone gratitude, but is there a man of either party in the district whose business methods are more exact, whose private life is more pure?

Was there ever a man in Grove that had prestige enough to even secure consideration in a congressional convention? He is not only your greatest but grandest and most glorious. His ambitions and intellectual superiority stand forth as an honorable monument to Grove township.

If I was there my vote and influence would be where the same of every man in the township should be—first, last and all the time, for Capt. Barclay.

Stand by the man of your own soil and let there not be one vote recorded against Capt. Chas. F. Barclay for Congress.

Very truly yours,
CASH O. SHAFFER.

Cut this out and take it to L. Taggart's drug store and get a free sample of Chamberiain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For biliousness and constipation they are unequaled. They improve the appetite, strengthen the digestion and regulate the liver and bowels. J. E. Smith, Sterling Run; Crum Bros., Sinnamahoning.

Old School Mate's Indorsement.

EDITOR PRESS—Too much cannot be said in favor of Mr. William J. Leavitt, the Republican candidate for Prothonotary of Cameron county.

Mr. Leavitt is a man of noted perseverence and abilitv. His struggles to secure an education in early life are to be remembered by all who know him. He used every possible means to economize and make every effort count in preparing himself for the commercial world.

Mr. Leavitt being an old school friend of mine, I am personally acquainted with him, and I only express my regrets that I can not be with you to hustle his election. I have no possible reason to doubt but what all of Cameron county's voters, as well as Mr. Leavitt's many friends, will give him their hearty support on Nov. 6th by pushing him to the front and casting their votes for him.

Yours truly,
EDWARD SYKES.

Chapped Hands.

Wash you hands with warm water, dry with a towel and apply Chamberlain's Salve, just before going to bed, and a speedly cure is certain. This salve is also invaluable for sore nipple, itching piles and skin diseases. For sale by L. Taggart; J. E. Smith, Sterling Run; Crum Bros,, Sinnamahoning.

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Than all Others Put Together.

Mr. Thos. George, a merchant at Mt. Elgin, Ontario, says: "I have had the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other line I have on my shelves put tggether. Of the many dozens sold under guarantee, I have not had one bottle returned. I can personally recommend this medicine as I have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results." For sale by L. Taggart; J. E. Smith, Sterling Run; Crum Bros., Sinnamahoning.

Croup.

A reliable medicine and one that should always be kept in the home for immediate use in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will prevent the attack if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears. For sale by L. Taggart; J. E. Smith, Sterling Run; Crum Bros., Sinnamahoning.

Good for everything a salve is used for and especially recommended for piles. That is what we say of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. On the market for years and a standby in thousands of families. Get DeWitt's. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

Give children a remedy with a pleasant taste. Don't force unpleasant medicine down their throats. Kennedy's Laxative containing Honey and Tar is most pleasant to take. Children like it, and as a relief for colds, coughs, etc., there is nothing better. No opiates. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

Here is our condensed opinion of the Original Laxative Cough Syrup. "Nearly all other cough syrups are constipating especially those opiates. Kennedy's Laxative, (containing) Honey and Tar moves the bowels. Contains no opiate. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by R. C. Dodson.

For Sale.
